Revolt in Iran Over Oil Pact

LONDON, April 8 (INS) — Premier Qavam of Iran was reported today to have ordered Iranian troops to proceed immediately to Mazanderan province following reports that a coup d'etat had been attempted there. Kazvin and Resht are leading towns in the area. The Russians are reported to have evacuated the region lately.

Qavam added, according to Reuter's News Agency, that there was no cause for concern as the situation would be under control once the Iranian troops arrived.

The coup d'etat apparently was directed against the premier's government, which aroused considerable resentment from right-wing quarters because of the oil agreement signed with Russia, Reuter's continued.

A right-wing spokesman in Tehran was quoted as saying the coup had been planned in detail by leaders in the capital. The subversive movement was said to have been planned for several provinces.

Reuter's said it had learned that four men were arrested when the police attacked a "rebel headquarters" in Shahi, a town on the key railway between Tehran and Bandershah, in Mazanderan.

Russia Stirs New UN Crisis Over Iran Case

NEW YORK, April 8 (AP)—Russia posed a new threat of boycott before the United Nations Security Council today unless the Council abandons its scrutiny of the Iranian case and accepts the Soviet view that the issue has been settled in bilateral agreement.

Moscow took a direct hand, broadcasting both a firmly phrased demand that the Council remove the Iranian case from its docket, and a telegram from Iranian Premier Ahmed Qavam to Prime Minister Stalin expressing satisfaction with the new agreement between them.

Moscow said Soviet Ambassador Gromyko had advised UN Secretary-General Trygve Lie in New York that the Iranian case must be dropped at once rather than remain on the agenda for reconsideraion May 8, by which time all Red army troops are supposed to be out of Iran.

In a letter to Lie dated April 6, Gromyko was quoted as saying the council's retention of the Iranian case for rechecking on May 6 is "not right and is illegal and is contrary to the charter of the United Nations . . . There is no reason to leave the Iranian question before the Security Council for any further discussion."

Gromyko's letter to Lie promised to stir new debate when the council meets tomorrow after a weekend recess, during which Poland announced her intention to bring the Spanish question before the council, and Moscow sought to show Russia and Iran had reached complete agreement.

Iran Oil Pact Gives Russia 51-49 Control

TEHRAN, April 8 (AP)—Russia will be the majority stockholder in the proposed Soviet-Iranian oil company for the first 25 years of its 50-year term, under an agreement to be presented to the Iranian parliament for approval.

Premier Ahmed Qavam told Iranian newsmen that Russia would control 51 per cent and Iran 49 per cent of the stock for the first 25 years.

Byrnes Sees President On UN Development

WASHINGTON, April 8 (AP)—Secretary Byrnes conferred for 35 minutes today with President Truman on developments in the United Nations Security Council.

Byrnes entered and left the White House by a side door, and reporters had no opportunity to question him.

Shoe-Safe Isn't

PHILADELPHIA, April 8 (AP)—It was just an old shoe that thieves found in William Solomon's home but it was priceless to him.

The 63-year-old retired businessman said his life savings—$4000—was missing from the shoe upon his return from the movies.

The thieves also took 24 pairs of nylons, three dresses, two suits and two radios.

Strike of 11,000 at Hub, Quincy Shipyards Near

Approximately 11,000 workers at the Bethlehem Steel Co's Quincy and East Boston yards will go on strike after May 7 unless they receive an 18-cent hourly wage increase, the Industrial Union of Marine & Shipbuilding Workers, CIO, announced today.

The walkout here will be in concert with corresponding action by more than 60,000 members of the union at 15 other shipyards throughout the country, according to Andrew Pettis, head of the union in this region.

Pettis' disclosure of the local situation followed an announcement in Camden, N. J., by John Green international president of the union, that a 30-day notice had been filed with Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach. This was in compliance with the Smith-Connally act.

The 18-cent pay increase was recommended by the Shipbuilding Wage Conference, representing management, the union and government, Pettis said, with a two-to-one vote in which management dissented. As proposed, it was to be retroactive to Dec. 4, 1945.

Fifteen shipyards other than those at Quincy and East Boston threaten to become involved, Bethlehem owning 10 in all, according to union officials.

Steel Feels Soft Coal Strike Pinch

A labor department official reported steel mills soon would begin to feel the full effect of the week-old strike of 400,000 bituminous miners.

What the government would, or could, do about it was a question, since John L. Lewis, AFL United Mine Workers chieftain, has not asked a specific wage increase. So the question of conformity with the national wage-price policy has not yet arisen.

At Akron, O., Mayor Charles E. Slusser threatened to take "immediate steps" to end a week-long walkout of 450 CIO bus and trolley drivers, who are demanding 32 cents an hour more pay. But the labor troubles of four other cities had eased.

In Detroit, buses and street cars started running again following a week-old strike of 5200 AFL transit workers.

Jap Cabinet Ouster Sought

TOKYO, April 8 (AP)—With Japan's election two days away, a 14-man committee of the "Democratic People's Front" appeared today before Premier Shidehara, demanding his cabinet resign immediately.

Emperor Hirohito, meanwhile, called upon the 36,000,000 voters of Japan to "take part in the election with enthusiasm and conviction by voting for the candidates of their free choice and contribute thereby toward the establishment of a democratic diet."

The remote island village of Okino Shima meanwhile set a surprising pace by sending 86.2 per cent of its normaly apathetic voters to the polls.

Tobin Seeks Ban On Gas Strike

Home from his Florida vacation, Governor Tobin today faced the necessity of intervening in a threatened strike by 700 gas plant workers which might deprive 1,500,000 persons in 34 Greater Boston communities of gas supply.

Tobin conferred at the State House with representatives of the Eastern Gas & Fuel Associates, owners of the Everett plant, and a committee of 11 from Local 283, the United Gas, Chemical and Coke Workers, CIO.

The strike had been scheduled for Tuesday, but Acting Governor Cook prevailed upon the workers to remain on the job until the Governor's return.

Delay in Taking Bedford Airport Surprises Snow

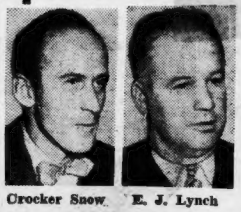
Bedford Airport has been available to be taken over by the State under an interim permit since Feb. 28 but nothing has been done about it, Crocker Snow, director of the Massachusetts aeronautical commission, declared today in an interview.

"The papers have been forwarded to the Army engineers here from Washington," Snow said, "and as far as the government is concerned we can have it at any time, as long as we maintain it and use it for airport purposes."

Snow, who returned to his post last week after being on leave for military service, expressed surprise that nothing had been done about the matter and said he would recommend immediate action to the full commission.

"Here is a beautiful airport, built on State owned land," he said. "The State could take it over without expending any money and could lease it to five good operators who could support and maintain it."

He said Bedford was one of six airports which had been greatly developed by government services during the war and that action had been taken on all but Bedford. Interim permits had been obtained by communities to operate airports at Beverly, Hyannis and Norwood; an application for such a permit had been made at



Crocker Snow E. J. Lynch

New Bedford and Nantucket had the papers ready to sign.

Snow also declared the service groups, Army, Navy and so on, should be centralized on one airport, such as Bedford or Squantum, and that other ports should be used for commercial and private flying.

He said studies also were being made of parks and other areas now under control of the Metropolitan District Commission with a view to obtaining room for private planes.

NEW YORK, April 8 (AP)—The Queen Mary sailed today for Southampton with 830 civilians and 120 military personnel aboard, largest passenger list since the war.

Dickie Takes First Walk on New Legs

One month ago today three-year-old Dickie Landry of Blossom st., Lynn, with both legs mangled beneath the wheels of a train at a crossing near his home, was rushed to Lynn Hospital, where slight hope for his recovery was held. The slight thread of hope lay in Dickie's amazing pluck throughout an ordeal to which many adults would have succumbed. Dickie remained conscious through a two-hour stay in the hospital shock room and then underwent a 45-minute operation in which both legs were amputated.

After the operation Dickie, still smiling, was given a 50-50 chance to pull through, and the plucky boy began a fight for life that has amazed physicians and nurses.

Today there was rejoicing throughout the institution. Dickie had walked for the first time since the cruel tragedy doomed him to walk only with artificial legs for the remainder of his life.

The artificial limbs had been provided from a fund of $22,000 raised by the sympathetic citizens of Lynn for the courageous boy who had defied death and won.

To the onlooking doctors, nurses and other hospital employes there was stark yet glorious drama in that first walk.

The crippled lad—still smiling—was supported by Head Nurse Evelyn Drinkwine, who is directing his post-operation treatment in the children's ward.

There were tears in the eyes of all as Dickie proudly took those first few steps.

They could hardly believe that only a month ago his little life had been despaired of. Dickie's pluck and indomitable will to live fooled everyone.

MRS. MARGARETA B. CODMAN
Seeks One-Third of Estate
INP by Joseph Parodi

Lawyer Tells Of 2 Million Codman Will

Paul Hubbard, retired Brookline attorney, testified in Dedham Probate Court today he had not used undue influence in persuading the late Catherine A. Codman of Westwood in 1936 to will one-third of her estate outright to her sister-in-law, Mrs. Margareta Biddle Codman of Brimmer st., Back Bay. The estate value totals between two and three million.

He said the will had been drawn along this line but that in 1938 he received a letter saying she had revoked the will. She is alleged not to have drawn another.

The action was brought by Mrs. Codman, widow of Robert Codman, former Episcopal bishop of Maine, who asks that the 1-36 will be allowed.

Hubbard denied on the stand he had planted any seeds of suspicion in his client's mind that might have led to the revocation in 1938. He said he never told her her brothers, Edmund and Stephen, were "trying to do a job on her."

The estate reverts to Edmund and Catherine Eppinger of Brookline, the latter the daughter of Stephen, now dead.

Also present in court today was counsel for Edmund, who said he had assumed a "moral obligation" of paying one third of the income of the estate to Margareta until she brought the present suit. The case is continuing before Judge Arthur D. Davis.

2 in Auto Linked To Dead Baby

A man and woman in a black coupe were being sought by detectives today as Medical Examiner Timothy F. Leary began an autopsy on the body of a newborn baby boy found in a florist's box in a private way off Tamworth st. in the theatrical district.

The couple drove out of Tamworth st., into Boylston st., shortly before five Charlestown boys discovered the body in a box bearing the name of a Belmont florist and stuffed with Sunday newspapers.

PORTLAND, Ore., April 8 (AP)—Do you have a one-way vision window? Better test it if you have.

A letter from Mrs. E. A. Renquist of Cincinnati, advised relatives here that a window in the Renquists' bathroom, facing the street, was to be the kind by which you can see out of, but not into, the house.

Six months later they learned it was clear glass to passersby also.

British, French Troops Will Quit Syria

Food Kills Cambridge Girl, 4; Twin Stricken

A 4-year-old Cambridge girl was found dead in bed and her twin sister seriously ill at her side today in what authorities tentatively have termed a food poisoning mystery. Caren V. Bears was found dead in her Western ave home by her father, George Bears, a Navy veteran, who called police help. A rescue squad failed to revive the little victim.

Carol, a twin, was rushed to Cambridge City Hospital where doctors treated her for a gastric disturbance. Her condition was declared to be fair.

Dr. Leo T. Myles, associate medical examiner, ordered an investigation. An autopsy will be performed later today.

Bears, who was discharged from the Navy in 1943, said the entire family, save for a three-week-old baby, had eaten chicken Friday night and that the twins were ill afterward.

Mr. and Mrs. Bears and a son, Harry, 8, were not affected. The father said the twins were ill again Saturday but seemed sick only to their stomach.

She Sues Pickets

EVANSVILLE, Ind., April 8 (AP)—Mrs. Virginia Johnson, tavern operator, asked $25,000 damages in probate court today from the Central Labor Union and two affiliated AFL local unions on an allegation that their picketing has damaged her business and impaired her health.

Mrs. Johnson says her tavern has been picketed since last Oct. 1, when she refused to sign a closed shop agreement.

Battle to Avert Sugar Walkout

New England's sugar supply hung in the balance today as officials of East Coast refineries were scheduled to confer in Washington this afternoon with AFL and CIO union leaders, representing 6500 sugar refinery workers, over a wage increase on which they are now but 2 cents apart.

This afternoon's meeting will be held at the U. S. Department of Labor offices. Involved in the dispute are the American, National and Revere refineries in Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore.

Baruch Daughter's Plane in Crash, 2 Die

WICHITA, Kan., April 8 (INS)—The crash of a $60,000 airplane scheduled for delivery to Miss Belle Baruch, daughter of Bernard M. Baruch, left a former Army colonel and an Army sergeant dead today and another man critically injured.

The twin-engine plane crashed and burned while taking off from the landing field of the Beach Aircraft Corp. The dead: Sgt. John Zozula, Washington, D. C., and former Army Col. Herbert Horton of New York.

Bataan Heroes Arrive in Hub For Convention

More than 450 heroes of Bataan and Corregidor, the vanguard of nearly 2000 expected here tomorrow for their first annual convention, poured into Boston today from all parts of the nation by plane, auto and train.

The survivors will open their program tomorrow, fourth anniversary of the surrender which climaxed their epic defense of Bataan, with the first business session of their new organization, the American Defenders of Bataan and Corregidor.

Although the veterans had hoped to have their old commander, Gen. Jonathan "Skinny" Wainwright as geust of honor, it appeared doubtful today that he would be able to attend.

However, Maj. Gen. Edward P. King, Jr., who surrendered Bataan, and 100 Gold Star Mothers, whose sons died in Japanese captivity, will be honored guests.

Other guests will be 30 Bataan veterans from Valley Forge hospital in Pennsylvania and an additional 15 from Avon Old Farms, Ct., being rehabilitated after losing their sight from the rigors of Japanese imprisonment.

Among the veterans arriving today was Maj. Asa "Ace" Faulkner, of Phoenix, Ariz., a veteran of the 14th Philippine Division, who spent the day renewing old acquaintances.

Other arrivals from distant points included Marine Sgt. Frank W. Prince, of Chicago; Sgt. Norman Matthews, Suffolk, Va.; Sgt. Michael A. Tussing, Mt. Jackson, Va., and S. Sgt. Francis E. Gabour, Texarkana, Ark.

Also putting in an appearance was CMM James McAvoy, of Lawrence, who was aboard the PT boat which took Gen. MacArthur from Corregidor on the start of his journey to Australia.

Sgt. Joseph Horan, of South Boston, had a happy reunion with Lt. William Galos, of Lexington, whose life he saved in the infamous "Death March" by carrying him for 17 miles on his back.

Other early arrivals were two Connecticut brothers, Sgts. Frederick and Philip Rohde. The latter was liberated in the Ranger raid on Cabanatuan prison while Frederick was freed by the Navy at Niigata, Honshu.

Highlight of tomorrow's celebration will be the street parade

Among the marchers also will be S-Sgt. Charles McGillvray, of South Boston, invited by the Bataan men to join them and, as a medal of honor winner, accorded two aides, Sgt. Horan and Sgt. Michael Tardivo, who will carry the white-starred blue flags symbolic of his honor.

Schools of Boston will close at noon tomorrow in order to allow the school children plenty of time to get downtown for the parade which will start at 2 p. m.

Starting at the First Corps Cadets Armory, the paraders will march along Arlington st. to Boylston st., to Tremont st., to Temple pl., to Washington st., to School st., to Beacon st., to Lafayette Mall and the reviewing stand on Boston Common.

Mayor Curley will review the the marchers from a stand at City Hall and Gov. Tobin will review the parade in Beacon st.

After an address by the Governor at the Common reviewing stand, the paraders will re-form and march through Charles st., to Park sq. to Stuart st. to the disbanding point at Broadway and Tremont st.

STAR WEDS—A happy young stage and screen star, Jan Clayton, and a former Jap war prisoner, Robert Lerner, became Mr. and Mrs. in a quiet New York ceremony before Supreme Court Justice Morris Eder.

Linehan Fights Curley Cash Plea

Councilor Thomas E. Linehan of South Boston attended his first city council meeting after six weeks of hospitalization today and celebrated the occasion by lecturing his colleagues acidly on their way with the taxpayers' dollars.

Linehan demanded, first, that the council stand pat against Mayor Curley's request for $80,000 with which to buy a new boat for the run to the Long Island Hospital.

The measure has been on the table since last week. On the general subject of municipal finance, Linehan told the Council:

"I have been reading minutes of the meetings for the last six weeks and there certainly has not been much saving of the taxpayers' money. If we have a Plan E form of government here there will be only nine of us in the Council, but while we are here let's do our best tosave money.

"I don't think you did that when you passed the mayor's budget, with $5,000,000 more than last year in it. I'm sorry I was not here to vote against it.

"The mayor wants to borrow $10,000,000 to reduce the tax rate. With interest it would take $18,000,000 to repay, and tax rates in the future would be higher. You are spending $75,000 here and $100,000 there and it represents a tremendous tax rate."

Guilty of Bad Check As He Plans Burial

Arthur Hayward, 50, of Weldon st., Roxbury, who cashed a bad check for $15 with Clifford Mann, West Roxbury undertaker, after arranging for a $1600 fictitious funeral, was sentenced to three months in jail today after pleading guilty to a charge of larceny.

Hayward showed Mann a bankbook with a deposit of $5000, explaining he had just come to town to arrange a funeral for his daughter, who, he said, had died while serving as a WAVE.

Back Strike For Closed Shop

Legislation to permit strikes for closed shops and picketing by persons not involved in a strike was supported before the legislative committee on labor and industry today by the Massachusetts CIO.

George F. Markham, CIO counsel, declared the U. S. Supreme Court had ruled strikes for closed shops are legal, but that the Massachusetts Supreme Court has ruled against such strikes.

Sen. Charles W. Olson of Ashland, committee chairman, expressed the opinion picketing should be restricted to people who work at the plant in a labor dispute.

New Esophagus Baby Recovering

CONCORD HEIGHTS, N. H., April 8 (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon Corson were told today their 23-month-old son, "Dusty," was getting along "very well" at Children's Hospital in Boston after an operation to give him an artificial esophagus.

"Dusty," whose real name is Mahlon, Jr., was born in Memorial Hospital in Concord without an esophagus. Soon after his birth a tube was inserted into his stomach through the abdominal wall, and an opening was made at the base of his throat to carry off saliva.

Saturday, Boston surgeons removed a section of his intestines and inserted it from mouth to stomach to serve as an esophagus.

Dusty's father is an Army veteran who was wounded in the European theater.

50 Picket Hearing Of Rankin Committee

NEW YORK, April 8 (INS)—Fifty persons picketed the U. S. courthouse today as a man representing the House Committee on Un-American Activities began a closed hearing on the national federation of constitutional liberties.

Signs demanding that Rep. John Rankin "Go back to Mississippi" were displayed. Rankin, chairman of the full committee on Un-American activities, did not attend the session.

East Boston Airport Progress Given O.K.

Progress of "remarkable" nature has been achieved at the East Boston airport during the last nine months in the matter of construction improvement, a sub-committee of the legislative recess commission on aviation reported to the parent body today.

A temporary administration building with 11 plane stations will be ready for use this month, the report said. Detailed plans for a permanent building with 30 plane stations, to be available in the fall, are being made, the subcommittee declared.

The report was submitted by Sen. Charles J. Innes of Boston, chairman; Sen. Robert L. Lee of Charlestown, Rep. Russell P. Brown of Beverly, Rep. Leslie B. Cutler of Needham and Rep. Enrico Capucci of East Boston. They said in part:

"The Idlewild airport in New York was started approximately a year and one-half before the East Boston project, but as of today no scheduled commercial flights have yet used Idlewild airport, and they do not expect to complete that airport until long after ours has been finished."

The work of hydraulic dredging has progressed more rapidly than expected, according to the subcommittee, while gravel-filling of the two principal runways is going ahead satisfactorily.

Argentina Quits League Session

GENEVA, April 8 (AP)—Argentina disturbed the final "death" sessions of the expiring League of Nations today when its delegation walked out because it failed to secure election as one of the assembly's eight vice-presidents.

Chairman Luis Moreno Quintana said he didn't know whether he would attend tomorrow's plenary session and general debate. He said he had asked instructions from his government.

Other delegates said they understood Argentina was on the slate for consideration by the nominations committee and that the Argentine delegation considered the matter of great importance to their prestige. Delegates refused to say what nation prevented Argentina's nomination.

Curley Cold Cure Wins Vote

Mayor Curley's rum and lemon cure for a cold brought one of the most unusual letters today he has received in years as well as the promised vote in the future from a lifelong political enemy. It read:

"Dear Jim: For many years we have been enemies but you didn't know it. I read in the newspaper about your cold cure and I knew I had misjudged you all these years. If (God forbid) you ever run again I hereby promise you one vote. My daughter is being married April 11. If you should happen to have a cold that evening drop in and see us for a spot of cure.

"Long life to you, my friend."

The mayor did not disclose the name of the sender.

Quiz Gen. Ike As He Urges Draft Extension

WASHINGTON, April 8 (AP)—Gen. Eisenhower agreed today with questioning Senators that 18-year-old youths do not make the best occupation troops but insisted the Army will be short manpower unless the draft is extended beyond May 15.

The Army chief of staff ran into a barrage of critical questions from the Senate military committee as he urged a one-year draft extension, with inducted men serving 18 months.

Sen. Johnson (D.) of Colorado brought the atomic bomb and Russia into the exchange after Eisenhower said Marshal Gregory Zhukov, Soviet army leader, has asked how long American troops would help police Germany.

Gen. Eisenhower said Russia, England and France "fear the United States may become so weak it will get out of Europe."

He was opposed to "saber rattling and jingoism," he said, and did not believe we are soon to be involved in war, adding that Marshal Zhukov once told him:

"It is fine to be peace-loving but the United States is so peace-loving it is not realistic."

Eisenhower said there had been no discussion with the Russians about the atomic bomb.

Johnson and other Senators raised the question about use of 18-year-old draftees for occupation duty. The Colorado Senator said the Army was seeking "boy-power" rather than manpower.

Eisenhower agreed if Congress could "find some other way without the 18-year-olds I'm for it."

Revere Wife, 19, Divorced From Baby-Beater

One of the reasons she wanted a divorce was because her husband had been sentenced to 3 months for assault and battery, Mrs. Sigrid McCoy, 19-year-old blonde of North Shore rd., Revere, told Judge Robert G. Wilson in probate court today.

Mrs. McCoy

"Whom did he assault?" she was asked.

"Our baby," she answered, "and when I stepped in he beat me, too."

She explained her mate, Stanley M. McCoy, Jr., of Phillips ct., Malden, had fits of irritation when their infant of several months cried and had been given to buffeting the child.

Mrs. McCoy asked for support of $7 a week for the infant.

"That's not enough," said Judge Wilson, boosting it to $15 in granting the divorce.

Grounded Ship Can't Dump Oil

Owners of the Liberty ship, Charles S. Haight, stranded and breaking up on a ledge off Rockport, has been restrained from dumping 560 barrels of oil into the sea and ruining lobster fishing as well as rendering beaches unfit for bathing, Atty. Gen. Clarence A. Barnes disclosed today.

Barnes said a temporary order to that effect had been obtained from Superior Court.

Cong. George Bates of Salem today asked the Navy and Coast Guard to ban the dumping because of its obvious threat to lobstering and bathing beach recreation.

Hope of saving the ship has been abandoned. A commercial salvage company has been stripping the vessel of gear.

MRS. RUTH G. CREESE
Freed on Desertion Charge

Duplicate Wife Gets Annulment

Less than three weeks after she married Clark Rinehart Jackson, a research marketing expert, now of New York, a woman telephoned her to announce she had married him first and had priority, Mrs. Gertrude Colby Jackson of Brainard rd., Allston, testified today in Suffolk Probate Court.

Judge Robert G. Wilson, Jr., gave her an annulment.

She identified her telephone caller as Rhea Jackson of New York. When she confronted her husband in the matter, she testified, he replied: "So what?"

So she left him, she explained.

Mrs. Ruth G. Creese of Newbury st., Back Bay, was awarded a divorce from Dr. Philip G. Creese, City Hospital physician, on ground of desertion.

She testified that after she had worked to help him through Harvard Medical School he told her their marriage did not promise to be successful.

Mrs. Mary C. Barry of Dedham won a divorce from William F. Barry and $7 a week for custody of their child. She said he deserted her the day of their marriage, Jan. 4, 1945.

4 Gag Caretaker, Steal Rum, Cash

WORCESTER, April 8—Using a telephone call to a garage as a ruse to gain entry, four men early today held up Joseph Bigos of Taylor st., cartaker at Reynold's Red Roof, a dine and dance place in the Greendale section, ransacked the place and left him bound and gagged.

Bigos managed to free himself of his bonds after an hour's struggle and telephoned police.

The four men escaped with $65 in cash from the bar, an undetermined sum found after smashing two juke boxes and six cases of liquor from a store room.

Bigos told police he was alone at 2 a. m. when he answered a knock at the door. A man asked permission to use the phone. He said the man thanked him, paid a nickel toll and opened the door so three other men could rush in.

While two held him at bay with a gun and knife, he said, the other two ransacked the place and then bound and gagged him with a torn tablecloth.

Curley Seeks Right To Sell Idle Hub Land

Making good his promise to attempt to sell idle city land, Mayor Curley today asked the city council for authority to sell at public auction, at not less than $125,000, a plot of land at Commonwealth ave. and Chestnut Hill ave., Brighton. The land, in custody of the park department, comprises 66,272 square feet.

Slays Four

DES MOINES, April 8 (AP)—A mother, grandmother and two small children were hacked to death in the front yard of their home today and, after a gun-fight in which he was wounded, police took into custody a newspaper printer who said "God had ordered me to kill my family."

A neighbor child was wounded in the gun battle involving police and William C. Irwin, 41, who was nicked in the leg by a police bullet.

Irwin, after treatment at a hospital, was placed in a padded cell at the city jail.

Those killed were Edith Irwin, 38, Irwin's wife; Mary Alice Irwin, 64, his mother; John Irwin, 8, and Henry Irwin, 5, his sons.

A third son, William, Jr., 11, had gone to school.

The weapon used was a double-edge grubbing tool with a flat blade on one side and a point on the other.

Detective Chief Paul Castelline said Irwin told him:

"I had an impulse. God had ordered me to kill my family. Now I've done everything in the book."

Castelline said he asked Irwin whether he was crazy and the man replied: "I must be."

The chief said Irwin told him he had been confined to a Chicago mental institution some years ago.

An early examination indicated this sequence of events:

Edith Irwin ran screaming from their home with Irwin in pursuit, carrying the garden instrument. He downed her and repeatedly struck her with the sharp blade as she lay in the yard.

John and Henry Irwin then emerged through the front door, also screaming. Irwin turned on them and slashed them with the tool. Then Irwin's mother came to the yard from an adjoining garden patch and he attacked her. The family dog was killed in the same manner.

Irwin returned to the house for a shotgun and sat on the front porch. When police cars arrived, he started firing. In the exchange, Irwin and Geraldine Nelson, 5, a neighbor child passing the scene, were wounded slightly.

3 Held in Attempt To Hold Up Cop

Three sailors, who made the mistake of picking up Patrolman Robert Fitzgibbons while he was on his way to his home in Pinckney st., Beacon Hill, early Sunday, were ordered held in $5000 each for the grand jury by Judge Riley in municipal court today on charges of assault with intent to rob.

The three, Caleb B. McGlasson, Mulkeytown, O.; Jack V. Saunders, Cereda, W. Va., and Charles D. McGriff, Dayton, O., were overhauled after a chase when they fled from the scene of the attempted holdup after a losing battle with the hefty patrolman.

Subway Romance Costly to Romeo

It may be a long time before Webster Williams, 22, East Cottage st., Roxbury, sets forth in search of romance on the subway again. Judge Miles of Roxbury court today gave him a six months' suspended sentence for "accosting and annoying," a $15 fine for drunkenness, a lecture and an order to pay a $3.25 cab bill for a girl who took the cab to escape his attentions.

It was shortly after midnight, Sunday morning, according to the testimony, that Williams (who admitted he had hoisted a few quick ones) saw Miss Marie Pannier, 21, Trescott st., Dorchester, in a subway train.

Her beauty so intrigued him he ogled her. She did not want to be ogled. He winked. She turned her face.

Witnessing Williams' technique and disapproving of it heartily, was Mrs. Marie King, Columbia rd., Dorchester. She said to Miss Pannier, "Is he annoying you?"

"He certainly is," said Miss Pannier.

"Then stay with me," said her new friend.

They got off at Savin Hill. So did Williams. They boarded a bus. So did Williams, who was still ogling Miss Pannier. When Miss Pamnier started to get off at her stop, Williams followed. She sat right down again with Mrs. King.

Mrs. King refused to get off at her own stop. She and Miss Pannier — and Williams — made several round trips. The bus finally broke down and had to be turned in at the Bartlett st., Roxbury, yards.

There, at the women's suggestion, police arrested Williams. Miss Pannier and Mrs. King went along to the station to make sure he was booked. Then they hired a taxicab so he couldn't catch up with them again if by any chance police let him go.

Judge Miles complimented Mrs. King for an act of good citizenship, said there ought to be more women like her, and told Williams, "If it wasn't for this woman you might have been here on a more serious charge."

Breaking Into Police Station 'Cinch,' So He Gets IQ Test

For sheer recreation there's no fun like breaking into a police station, Patrick Ducey, 41, Buswell st., Back Bay, confided to Judge Miles in Roxbury court today.

Ducey was sent to the Boston Psychopathic Hospital for a 10-day observation period to determine why he feels that way.

He pleaded guilty to breaking and entering the home of Mrs. Ethel Ward, Center st., Jamaica Plain, but not guilty to stealing her fur coat.

Listening to him, and holding a warrant for him, was Chief Arthur H. Burnham of the Essex police department, still smarting at having his station burglarized by Ducey.

Ducey waved away airily any suggestion it had been difficult to do. "It was a cinch," he told Judge Miles. He said he warmed up by breaking into two Essex homes, then went to the town hall and broke into the police station.

"All I had to use was a nail file," he said modestly. The police wall clock was the only thing that interested him, he added.

"But why did you take it?" asked the judge.

"Just a prank," Ducey answered. "I later gave it away," he added with a slight touch of ennui.

With regard to the break at the home of Mrs. Ward, he testified he had been a dinner guest there yesterday and had returned for another visit, only to find Mr. and Mrs. Ward not there.

"So I went in," he said. He fed the canary, then refreshed himself with soup, milk and a portion of tuna fish, taking care to wash the dishes and—according to police, at least—stuff a pillow case with canned goods.

The police said that when they got there Ducey had five radios going, all with full power, and was listening attentively.

Halifax Scare

HALIFAX, N. S., April 8 (INS) — A mysterious barge loaded with ammunition drifted across Halifax harbor today and landed against a steamship pier.

Royal Canadian mounted police found small boys playing with 20-pound shells, machine gun ammunition, and a super-sensitive nose cap which is highly explosive.

The Canadian Navy disclaimed ownership of the barge.

Salem Man Loses Air Race to Dying Dad

Nicholas Cantos of Margin st., Salem, who made a 5000-mile flight to Greece last week in an effort to reach the bedside of his father, whom he hadn't seen for 30 years, lost the race with death, he cabled his wife today.

Contos, a merchant, flew on the TWA Skymaster inaugural Thursday from Bedford airport. His father, Evangelos, 71, died in Sparta the same day. He arrived in Athens Saturday at 2:30 p. m. and learned from his brother, Americos, of their father's death. The father had lived in Lowell, but returned to Greece in 1897 to fight the Turks.

FIRST PRICE MUST BE RIGHT.

Five little words, but in a nutshell those five little words tell the success story of the most unique retailing institution in the world. No matter what kind of a bargain is offered to any one of our 36 buyers, first of all they have to figure HOW LOW can they make the price. That's the first rule and regulation of doing business under our famous AUCTION PRICE REDUCTION plan—and if the first price isn't right—if it isn't LOW, the goods just don't qualify to be sold over our famous bargain counters, famous for 37 years for LOW prices. It's just simple common sense, simple, plain arithmetic—a plan that works automatically to s-t-r-e-t-c-h your dollars further—and a plan that gives the people what they want at the prices they want to pay—here it is: First prices must be LOW (right), or they are automatically reduced ¼, ½, ¾ after 12, 18 or 24 selling days. Goods given away after 30 selling days to charitable institutions. It's the plan that gives you the maximum in value for the minimum in price, for, faced with a 30 day selling sentence and the fact that every piece of merchandise unsold after 12 selling days will sell at an automatic loss, each buyer strives not only to get unusual bargains, but bargains priced so irresistibly low at the first price, folks will miss out if they don't buy immediately. That's why what you see here today is more often than not gone tomorrow—for the store that frequently sells hundreds of suits in an hour, thousands of shirts in a day, thousands of stockings in a few minutes, and so on—must SELL bargains—and that's Filene's Basement, the store with the automatic plan that makes first prices RIGHT—the store whose business flourishes on keeping prices LOW!

Z

I have been reading some lovely ads lately, real friendly like, written by some of my brothers in the men's wear business. The gist of their message has been and is "The goin's been pretty rough, boys, but it's goin' to be better. Thank you for waitin', thank you for waitin', thank you for waitin'" like that cracked Dumbo record I have at home.

Now for once in my life I am in agreement with the master minds of my calling, on the first part of their message at least. The going has been rough; goods have been terribly scarce. What concerns me at the moment is whether or not the boys are "waitin'," and if so for what. You see, I, like so many other retailers, had great plans for the returning men. I knew that when they got back there would be a greater demand than before the war for the things that were good. That's the way it has always been after wars. When most of the important things have been swept down the river you start hankering for the best in the things that are left. So Zareh ink laid its plans for the good life and better overcoats. And what happened? We had to settle for apologies and so-so undershirts, when we had an undershirt. This went on in every department and in every shop throughout the country. And then what happened? This too is a rhetorical question. I'll tell you what happened. The "boys" got so tired looking and asking for fine goods they just bought vanilla, from desperation and swollen arches. All that huge reservoir of demand for quality clothing shrivelled up from malnutrition. Only the edema was left. The Reynolds Tobacco Co. used to insist you'd walk a mile for a Camel. Who in this life wants to walk to Egypt for a good broadcloth shirt?

So that's my nightmare—how many of the boys are still "waitin'" and for what. Is it for the same old calico shirts "guaranteed to wear forever" (and look like hell just as long) and the same old clothing made of yarn "woven from the finest virgin" . . . hay, or is it for something really fine, something really wonderful, in fact, fitting for your boy, and my boy, and anyone's boy who spent even one filthy hour in the muck and the death that was only yesterday.

4000 High Pupils Strike in Indiana

EVANSVILLE, Ind., April 8 (AP)—More than 4000 students at two high schools struck again today after demanding immediate resignation of the city school board.

Central High School students, on strike since last Thursday, turned down at an assembly in the school this morning a proposed ultimatum presented by the student council that the school board be given until April 15 to resign. The students asked immediate resignation and left the school.

Similar action was taken at Bosse High School.

The students had agreed to return to school today after the Parent-Teacher Association induced the school board to retain Glen Bretz, Central basketball coach, and to campaign for a new school board. Bretz was told he would be replaced because of accusations he persuaded basketball players to stay away from spring football practice. Bretz denied the accusations.

Firing Squad At Rites Denied

The state department of the AMVETS, at instigation of Albert J. Reynolds, today protested to Lt. Gen. O. W. Griswold against the refusal of the provost marshal at Ft. Devens to send a firing squad to Plymouth for the funeral of Cpl. Peter Alves, a veteran of three years of Pacific service.

According to the protest, the First Service Command declined the squad on the grounds the distance was too far. Reynolds declared 3000 miles was not too far for Alves to travel to serve his country. Alves died at Bedford Hospital three months after Army discharge.

Full military honors were accorded the young veteran today, however, by members of Plymouth Post, American Legion. Fourteen veterans were pallbearers at funeral services at St. Joseph's Church. Later, they fired the traditional volley of farewell over his grave in St. Joseph's Cemetery.

Fishing Fleet Shift Begins, Union Organizers Follow

The extended labor dispute which has idled 35 trawlers of the Boston fishing fleet took a new turn today with announcement the 122-foot beam trawler Flow has been moved to Rockland, Me., and will begin operating out of that port.

The announcement was greeted by union leaders with a statement they would try to organize fishermen at the Maine port.

Patrick McHugh, local head of the Atlantic Fishermen's Union, said that if the fleet is moved from the fish pier to another New England port "we'll be right there on the docks waiting for them."

Thomas Rice, executive secretary of the Federated Fishing Boats of New England and New York, countered with, "I don't know what a well-paid union official does when the jobs of his men disappear, and with the jobs the ability of the men to pay the dues which provide his salary. It could be that Pat will find out as the fishing fleet disappears."

Rice said that on the Flow, in 1944, fishermen received $7297 each for 284 days of wrok, or an average of $25.70 daily. In 1945, he said, the ship was laid up for three months and the men only worked 191 days, but they received $4855 each, or an average of $25.42 for each fishing day.

"It appears inevitable that other units of the fleet will follow the Flow to other ports or be sold to foreign nations due to the increasingly intolerable labor canditions experienced under the irresponsible leadership of McHugh," added Rice.

Truckers Win Raise, Vacation

The labor dispute between 5000 Greater Boston union truck drivers and their employers' group was at an end today with an arbitration board recommending an hourly increase for the drivers from 90 cents to $1.02½.

John M. Sullivan, union local president, announced agreement on a two-year contract with the truck owners.

Other provisions include a two-week vacation with pay, and agreement the pay raise be retroactive to Jan. 1.

New Shoe Methods Shown In Hotel Statler Exhibit

Five peacetime innovations, which their inventor, Elliot E. Simpson of Carmel, N. Y., noted inventor and rubber magnate, claims will revolutionize and modernize American footwear habits are on display today at Hotel Statler in the New England Shoe Market Week.

Included are "lighter-than-leather" soles, made without rubber, leather, fabric or plastic, which Simpson guarantees will give added comfort and outwear leather.

Also on exhibit will be "walk-on-air" soles of compressed rubber, which, for the first time in shoe history, are made in all colors and designed to match not only the women's shoes but other parts of her costumes.

These soles combine a platform and sole without use of binding material for the first time in shoe manufacturing history.

Also on display are multi-colored leather type soles for women's shoes in which for the first time soy bean products have been harnessed for shoe sole manufacture.

Two unique shoe repair methods also are included in Simpson's exhibit. One is a branding iron which enables either shoe repairmen or bootblacks to repair a wearer's shoe in from three to five minutes while the shoe is being shined. In addition he has a home repair kit which can mend shoes almost in an instant.

His fifth innovation is a shoe repair machine which can design and repair a whole sole in a few minutes.

Simpson claims that his new soles will outwear the ordinary leather sole three to four times to one.

All his innovations will be on display tonight at the Shoe Fashion Revue at Hotel Statler, sponsored by the New England Shoe and Leather Ass'n.

Kennedy Weighs 2 Candidacies

John F. Kennedy, mentioned both as a candidate for lieutenant governor and to succeed Mayor Curley in the 11th Congressional district, said today he would make known what office he would seek later this week.

Kennedy, son of the former ambassador to the Court of St. James, indicated his decision on seeking the office of lieutenant governor would rest on whether or not former Atty. Gen. Paul A. Dever chose to go on the Democratic ticket as Gov. Tobin's running mate.

'Ballot Bivouack' For Governorship

MARCUS HOOK, Pa., April 8 (INS)—Carl E. Mau, the ex-GI running for the G. O. P. gubernatorial nomination, today announced a unique campaign.

Accompanied by other former servicemen of all nationalities, he will visit practically every town, putching pup tents and sleeping on the ground as they did in combat.

"It is believed this is the first time in politics that a candidate for such a high office ever went bivouacking for ballots," said Art Edwards, campaign manager for the 36-year-old former staff sergeant.

Junior Group Fiesta

YOUNG PEOPLE of North and South America will have a whirl of rumbas, sambas and congas and lively Yankee square dances at the fiesta Friday evening at the Hotel Beaconsfield given by the Junior Committee of the Pan-American Society. Miss Jacqueline Crandall of Lexington is chairman. Some 300 Latin American students from local schools and colleges have been invited.

Distinguished among sponsors of the Fiesta are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hobart, Dr. and Mrs. George C. Shattuck, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cabot, Mrs. Barbara Chadbourne, Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Coolidge, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hamlen, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Flanders, Prof. and Mrs. J. Anton de Haas, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Curtis and Dr. and Mrs. Jose Radin.

Mrs. T. Mitchell Hastings

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES T. COLLENS of Newton Center entertained at dinner the other evening in the Copley Plaza Oval Room for their sub-deb daughter Shirley and their son J. Richardson Collens who later attended the Junior Waltz Party. Shirley, who will be one of next season's debutantes, was pretty in a gray tulle dinner dress appliqued with gold paillettes while her mother was very modish in gray and white plaid sheer wool and gardenias. Mr. and Mrs. Edwin L. Beckwith, close family friends, joined them for dinner, Mrs. Beckwith in black crepe studded with sequins and a gold trimmed stovepipe hat.

Peppy Mrs. T. Mitchell Hastings and her husband were in the throng of dancers, the attractive blonde Bobbie wearing a conversation piece accessory—a red kid over-the-shoulder belt to which was attached a red pocketbook appliqued on one hip of her black sheer wool dress.

APRILS, towels and dusters made by little girls in the sewing department and woodworking by the boys are featured in the exhibit of the Industrial School for Crippled and Deformed Children at the Antiques Show and Sale opening today at the Copley Plaza under the direction of Mrs. Dorothy Hazen.

Pin Secret PW Deaths on Keitel

NUERNBERG, April 8 (AP)—The British prosecution, in a surprise move, submitted new documents to the International Military Tribunal today which purported to link Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel directly with a 1944 plan to give captured Allied air raiders a "special treatment."

This "special treatment" was the Nazi term for secret execution by the security police, the documents said.

Obviously flustered by this evidence, Keitel said "it was generally known what 'special treatment' was," but added, "thank goodness, these measures were never taken."

Earlier, however, British Prosecutor Sir David Maxwell Fyfe asked: "You knew if the airmen were handed over to the security police their chances would be only one in a million?" Keitel replied: "I did not know at that time what would happen."

Fyfe drew Keitel's admission he was aware the Nazi government's explanation of the shooting of 50 RAF airmen was a "complete and utter lie."

The airmen were executed following their escape from a POW camp in March, 1944. The explanation from Hitler's quarters then was that they were shot attempting to flee.

Truman Annoyer Suspect Freed

CHICAGO, April 8 (AP)—A man taken into custody in the Union Station before President Truman's train arrived Saturday was dismissed in police court today on a disorderly conduct charge when police reported mistaken identity had caused the arrest.

NEW DISCOVERY REDUCES HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE!

TIME MAGAZINE (March 11, 1946) tells about the effectiveness of using negative ions in reducing high blood pressure as discovered and used by the Germans prior to the war. Leading scientists of the world have confirmed this discovery and endorsed the treatment.

Conveniently located right here in Boston is a negative ion treatment that is available to bring relief to those who suffer from high blood pressure.

During the twelve years we have been treating patients, the average systolic pressure reduction has been 45 points . . . the average diastolic pressure reduction has been 21 points!

Treatments are pleasantly relaxing and given under a doctor's direction. They may be taken at home if desired and normal routine of existence may be continued.

Call or write at once for free folder telling in detail about this successful treatment to reduce high blood pressure.

Reds Tell of U. S. Galapagos Bases

MOSCOW, April 8 (AP)—The Soviet press and radio today carried a Tass dispatch from New York saying Ecuador had appealed to the United States to withdraw its forces from the Galapagos islands in the Pacific.

The dispatch, with Soviet reports of how the United States continued to hold bases in Cuba and Iceland, gave the Russians the impression the United States is reluctant to give up bases throughout the world.

(The State Department in Washington said Saturday it had informed Ecuador American forces will be completely withdaw from the ar and naval base on Galapagos islands by July 1. Previously, it had been announced complete agreement had been reached to turn over Cuban bases to Cuba.)

Add 2 to State Housing Group

A legislative committee to study the housing shortage was completed today with announcement of the appointmentby Gov. Tobin of two members, John A. Breen and Lewis H. Weinstein, both of Boston.

Legislative members are Senators Clifford R. Cuccon, Haverhill, and Robert L. Lee, Bocton; Representatives Earls S. Bagley, Townsend; Ralph H. Hill, Methuen; Harold E. Tivey, Billerica; Eugene J. Sweeney, Springfield, and Francis J. Gregory, Chicopee.

Breen, a chairman of the housing committee of the Massachusetts Real Estate Exchange, is a former chairman of the Boston Housing Authority.

Weinstein has been assistant corporation council of the city of Boston and now is housing counsel for the Massachusetts State Federation of Labor.

Hub Business Backs Carrier Rate Boost

The Boston Chamber of Commerce today petitioned the Interstate Commerce Commission to permit general rate increases proposed by the New England Motor Carriers, declaring that the life of this area's trucking industry is threatened by rates. The carriers seek advances ranging from 10 to 25 per cent.

Chamber officials said records disclose that during the last quarter of 1945 the average operating ratio of 116 Class 1 carriers was 105.7. This means that for every dollar of revenue received $150 plus was paid out to meet operating expenses.

SOME FACTS ABOUT THE SHORTAGE OF MEN'S CLOTHING

Every day people ask us, "Why is it so hard to get a suit of clothes now?" It's a fair question, and deserves an honest answer. First, it took months for the textile mills to reconvert from war to civilian production. Secondly, the needs of the millions of discharged service men, added to the normal requirements of civilians, have created a demand so far greater than the supply that it is impossible to take care of every customer at the exact time he wants new clothes.

You may have heard rumors that some makers were holding back clothes. We wouldn't know about that. We do know that Richman Brothers never held back garments for any reason whatsoever. In fact, we have for a long time been making as much clothing as the available supplies of raw materials would permit, rushing them to our stores as fast as we could, and putting them on sale just as quickly as they arrived. We've been giving priority to newly discharged service men, and in doing that we've been carrying out the wishes of the Government and right thinking civilians.

What are we doing to increase the supply of clothes? The Richman Tailoring Family are working as hard as they can, without sacrificing the quality of Richman workmanship, to put an end to this shortage as quickly as possible. We are shipping each week's production to our stores, without a moment's delay. Our stores, in turn, are putting the clothes on sale as fast as they receive them.

If you've been disappointed by shortage of clothes at your Richman store, we're sincerely sorry. However, new shipments are being made right along, and we hope you'll try again, for Richman quality, style and value are worth waiting for. Meanwhile, remember . . . we're doing our best. There never has been any holding back at Richman Brothers.

Veterans's Friend

By JAMES F. McENANEY

Q—On what grounds can a soldier lose points overseas? Mrs. T., Woonsocket.

A—While serving court-martial sentence, as a garrison or general prisoner.

Q—I am a first sergeant's wife. Will our household furnishings be transported overseas at government expense? F. E. A., Vt.

A—Transportation of household goods of first three grades is authorized only to certain points overseas at government expense. It would depend on your destination.

Q—I served three years with the Massachusetts State Guard and have an honorable discharge. Am I entitled to the Massachusetts State bonus or any veteran's bonus or benefits? M. F., Westport Point.

A—No. To be eligible for the Massachusetts State bonus or other veteran's benefits, it is necessary for a man to have served a prescribed period of time on active duty with the armed forces. You would not receive any federal benefits either.

Q—One of my sons was killed in Italy. I have another son in the occupation forces in Japan. Can he be transferred here? E. G., Holyoke.

A—The War Department now provides for such a transfer. Request should be made by your son to his commanding officer, in writing, for assignment in the United States, with substantiating evidence accompanying his letter to justify such a request.

Q—My husband in the Army sent me some money through the government in December, 1945. He said it would come from Washington but I have not received it. Where would I write to find out about it? Mrs. D. D., Holyoke.

A—Your letter does not state in what manner the money was transmitted. If it was by personal transfer account, write the Finance Officer, U. S. Army, 2 Lafayette st., New York, N. Y.

Q—What is holding up our air mail from servicemen in Japan and Korea? E. P., Hinsdale.

A—We have no way of determining what the cause for delay may be. Many factors are involved. You may write to Adjutant General, War Department, Washington, D. C.

Q—My son was called for service on 14 July, 1944 and has been overseas since January, 1945. When may we expect him home? H. A. M., Holyoke.

A—The latest War Department criteria on discharges states: All enlisted men (except volunteers) with 40 points as of Sept. 2, 1945, or with 2½ months' service as of June 30, 1946, will be separated from the Army or aboard ship returning home by June 30, 1946. Further instructions will be issued by the War Department at a later date.

Q—Our son has been in the service since July 25, 1945. How could I get him out to help on our farm this summer? L. S. M., Lancaster.

A—Unless he is eligible to apply for a dependency discharge due to hardship, he will have to wait until he has the required amount of service or number of points.

Q—Where could I obtain legal advice? I am a soldier's wife and my son and myself were in an accident. V. N., Lynn.

A—For legal asistance, contact the Legal Assistance Officer, Headquarters First Service Command, Army Base, Boston (10).

Mrs. Truman, Mrs. F. D. Plan To Adopt Brave French Boys

PARIS, April 8 (INS)—The Paris France-Soir reported today that Mrs. Harry Truman and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt plan to adopt the two French boys who removed Nazi mines from a bridge at Le Mans in August, 1944.

The boys' action made it possible for Gen. Patton's Third Army units to cross the Sarthe river. As identified by the evening paper, the boys are Moise Lecointre and Raymond Gaufre.

At the time of their feat, they were 14. They saw an American tank and held up before the mined bridge, exchanging fire with a German pillbox on the opposite side of the river. The boys cut the wires and dragged the mines off the bridge so the tank could cross.

France-Soir said they may go to the United States to meet their new foster mothers.

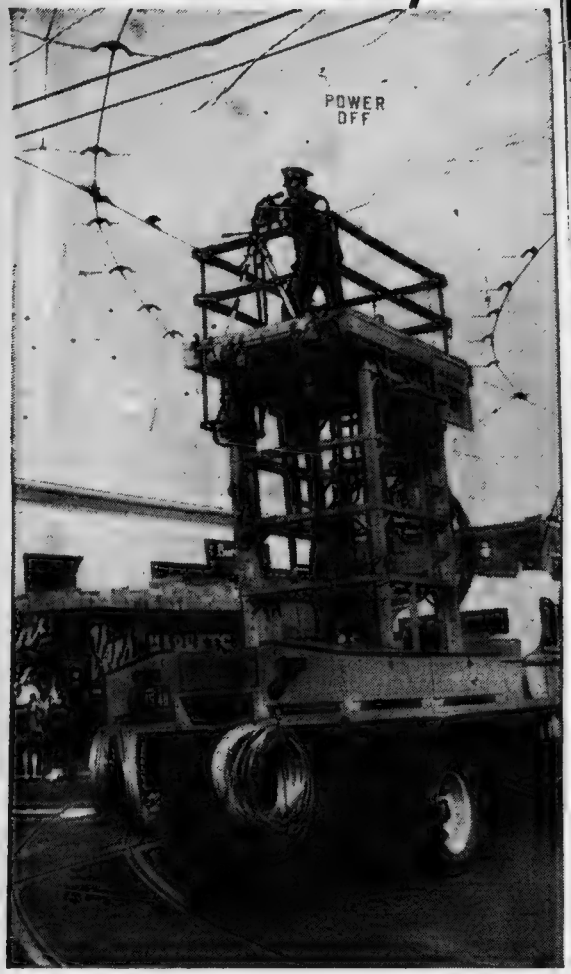
Police 'Shoot' Safety Film



To Teach Public

Los Angeles police officials, alarmed at the tremendous increase in the number of accidents to pedestrians, decided to make their own safety film on the do's and don'ts of safety. Above the police cameraman prepares to make a high shot at an intersection, while at right the camera crew and directors of the film "shoot" Actress Kathryn Kane in a scene showing how not to be a jaywalker.

SPLINTERS IN CONGRESS

THIS CONGRESS presents the European phenomenon of a splinter.

Do you know what a splinter is?

Most any American will answer that a splinter is a wicked piece of wood that gets under a fingernail and produces a festering sore if not immediately removed.

Congress has just such a splinter, but it is not of wood.

It is producing a festering sore, but one not so easily removed.

It is a HUMAN SPLINTER.

Current estimates are that 16 members of the House of Representatives and five members of the Senate belong to this splinter.

Of course, their guilt cannot be called by name, because they hide under the Democratic and Republican labels.

They would, in the stentorian vocalisms of their profession, deny that they are Communists or even Left-Wingers.

NOBODY, THEY WOULD CHALLENGE, HAS SEEN THEIR PARTY CARDS.

But when they deliver a speech, the voice may be American; but the words are Moscow's.

When they vote on measures, it is uniformly as though the "Daily Worker" had instructed them.

This group is a splinter.

It is a disguised splinter.

They dare not call themselves, for instance, "The Party of Loyalties Higher Than Patriotism," nor even, "The Party of the Master's Voice."

They can't afford to be honest.

They call themselves Democrats and Republicans and accept seniority within an existent party.

THE UNITED STATES politically is based upon a two-party system.

The assumption of the splinters is that unless they invade the existing political parties, they have no chance.

Also, possessing no principles, they steal the garb of their opponents and march in funeral processions in dead men's clothes.

Their activities have lost for America the competent services of many fine citizens who cannot cope with their dishonorable trickeries.

IF AMERICANS IDENTIFIED THEM FOR WHAT THEY REALLY ARE, THEY COULD NEVER BE ELECTED.

Many of these splinterers managed to march forward on the coattails of Roosevelt's political popularity.

They are today not so well serviced.

They have to depend upon their own demagogy and intellectual dishonor to produce the perfume of promise that hides the foulness of their performance.

It is not easy, and the less adroit have exposed the maneuver.

HOW CAN YOU identify a splinter Congressman or a splinter Senator?

Suppose he is from your state or your district, how would you know him?

Mark this test—for it never fails:

The foreign policy of Soviet Russia is a constantly changing one.

It stands upon the rock of Russia first and foremost, above all upon the face of the earth.

It is the policy of "RUSSLAND UEBER ALLES."

Before June 21, 1941, Russia was in alliance with Hitler.

The splinters belonged to various organizations to keep us out of war.

They fought against preparedness with all their might.

Their slogan was, "The Yanks Are NOT Coming."

Now, they wish to destroy the American Army and Navy, give Russia the atom bomb, Iran, Turkey, Manchuria, Korea, put Russia over MacArthur in Japan—and anything else that Stalin wants.

Tomorrow, they may change all around.

If you have a Senator or a Representative who follows every twist and turn of the Kremlin line, you know that he is a splinter.

Throw him out!

Love in her eyes sits playing,
And sheds delicious death;
Love on her lips is straying
And warbling in her breath:
Love on her breast sits panting
And swells with soft desire;
Nor grace nor charm is wanting
To set the heart on fire.

HEARTLESS FEMALES: Barbara Stanwyck and Joan Bennett seem to be trying to outdo each other in portrayals of heartless double-crossing females. For hard-boiled two-timing and general devilry, the female Barbara portrayed in "Double Indemnity" seems hard to top. However, I understand in the sensational film "Scarlet Street," Joan plays an even more heartless hussy. This later film is based on Georges de la Fouchardiere's "La Chienne."

QUERY FROM CLIENT: Q—In replying to a query you said the Caesarean operation was not named after Julius Caesar. The dictionary says it was. A stagie, please! A—Listen, do you think I am going to let a dictionary scare me when my hard-earned stogies are at stake? I still maintain my answer is correct. First, let me remind you that there were Caesars before Julius. The Roman ruler for whom the Caesarean operation was named lived centuries before Julius Caesar was born. Second, I call to your attention that the claim Julius Caesar was brought into the world by a Caesarean operation is open to question. Anyway, I am prepared to argue. Want to make your wager two stogies? And how about the editor or publisher of that dictionary you mentioned? How many stogies does he want to put up?

SELF CONTROL: Annually, during the month of January, British film magnate Joseph Arthur Rank gives up smoking in order to try out his self-control. Mr. Rank has a fortune estimated at $200,000,000. As for my self-control I try that out by resisting the desire to bet on longshots.

PLEASE NOTE: Am informed in a California hospital dishwashers are paid from $144 to $172 per month, plus maintenance. Resident doctors in the same hospital receive less than the dishwashers, namely $132 to $146 per month, plus maintenance. That's tough on the medicos. Well, anyway, there's a silver lining to their cloud: they don't get dishpan hands.

GET IT RIGHT: Let's get straightened out regarding the popularizing of the song "Casey Jones." Two vaudevillians, T. Lawrence Seibert and Edward Newton, heard two Negro boys in New Orleans sing a ditty dealing with the passing of "a brave engineer" named Casey Jones. The song made a deep impression on the vaudevillians. Discovering it had never been in print, they decided to polish the song up a little and use it in their act. Seibert revised the words, Newton arranged the air by "ragging" the original melody. The team introduced the song in its new form at the Ship Cafe, Venice, Cal., in 1909. It was a hit from the start.

SIDELIGHT: A WAC died from a service connected disability. Her husband applied for a death pension. He was turned down. Seems an unjust decision to me. One of the clients has promised to present me with an unusual book of old Irish songs.

CAUGHT IN ACT: "The lightweight champion boxer Freddie Welsh did claim to be a vegetarian," writes a Los Angeles subscriber. "But H. M. 'Beanie' Walker, the great Pacific Coast sportscribe, once caught Freddie in an obscure restaurant tearing into a big juicy steak. Walker reported this discovery in print and Welsh never denied it."

"How many zeros in a million?"

THESE DAYS

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Copyright, 1946, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

THAT WAS a very optimistic statement of the President and Mr. John Snyder that reconversion has jumped the hump, that we are producing $150,000,000,000 of industrial goods, and that all that needs to be done is to keep the OPA going and the bands will play—that there will undoubtedly be pie in the sky by and by.

John Snyder

Let us look at a few figures. With 1923 as 100, the cost of living in the United States reached 107.1 in December, 1945, —the highest point since January, 1921.

Do you remember the outcry against H. C. L. in those days?

This figure means a rise of 24.5 per cent above January, 1941, the base month of the Little Steel formula.

The increase in food prices between January, 1941, and December, 1945, amounted to 46 per cent—and it is about 49 per cent now.

Moreover, it is rising very rapidly in spite of Chester Bowles' ceiling prices and the OPA shenanigans.

IF YOU WILL get the Federal Reserve bulletin for March, 1946, on the very first page you will see a graph which completely disproves Mr. Snyder's estimated optimism.

That graph shows the usual tobogganing of production after a war and the line on the graph goes down almost vertically.

It is true that production is substantially above the 1935-1939 average. But you may recall that this country was in a depression in those years during which, according to government figures, there was an average unemployment of 10,000,000 every year.

Now, I do not know what Mr. Snyder means by $150,000,000,000. What kind of dollars?

Does he mean 1923 dollars or 1946 dollars? If he means a January, 1941, dollar, the base of the "Little Steel formula," the dollars are altogether different in value.

Furthermore, what share of that $150,000,000,000 is represented by taxes to be collected by government out of production?

Taxes are a cost of living—they are an expense.

What share of Mr. Snyder's figure then is not productivity at all, but actual excess cost of operations through taxes?

HAD MR. SNYDER given us some figures showing volume and velocity of production instead of depreciated dollar values, we might have had a figure to work with.

It is difficult to understand why any government official would issue such a statement devoid of clarity, based upon estimates.

The real test is: Go get yourself an automobile, a new refrigerator, a fine new radio. Build yourself a new house. Get some piping to improve your household plumbing. Try to open a new business, something small that does not involve a couple of million dollars RFC loan. Go buy yourself a new suit—something made of decent cloth. Throw a party and put big gobs of butter on the table.

Mr. Snyder apparently believes that all this is here or, at most, around the corner. But these things are not around any corner I hear anything about.

LET'S STOP talking about those billions—all I want is a pocket radio to take with me on a train. There's an order in, with a deposit put down, since Christmas.

I'll let John hold on to his $150,000,000,000 estimate—but what about that pocket radio?

Look, John, facts are facts. When can I get that little radio?

Also, do you think that butter really has to be about $1 a pound around the parts of the world where I live? And do I have to get down on my hands and knees to buy a little?

Does it have to be explained to me that it is better to eat ice-cream because, on account of the OPA, it is sounder business to make and sell ice-cream than to make and sell butter.

Butter? Let them eat ice-cream! What a campaign slogan!

Too bad, John! I thought you were a first-class, honest-to-goodness business man who could read figures.

Whoever put that phony pie-in-the-sky statement over on you sure tried hard to mix us all up with that figure of $150,000,000,000.

It sounded like Henry Wallace off on a statistical spree, or Henry Morgenthau using big numbers to sound like a big man.

Westbrook Pegler Is Now on Vacation

Hollywood

By Louella O. Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, April 8—The race of the season is on as to who will get to the screen first as "Joan of Arc"—Ingrid Bergman or Jennifer Jones. Here are the details back to the scenes:

When Ingrid Bergman broke with David Selznick it was well known that she planned to do "Joan of Arc" as a stage play on Broadway. Then, no sooner was Ingrid off the lot, than David announced that he would make "Joan of Arc" in the movies starring Jennifer Jones! A few suspicious souls interpreted this as meaning that a lot of the shine of Ingrid's venture would be rubbed off by David's similar movie version.

Ingrid Bergman

And now guess what's happened? Maxwell Anderson, the famed playwright, is coming here to huddle with Bergman about the stage "Joan"—but he will also confer with Walter Wanger about first doing it as a movie starring Ingrid! It may be Bergman - Wanger's first production under their new deal, and that means it should get rolling before the Selznick-Jones opus starts, because "Little Women" with Jennifer begins in August.

CHARLIE ENFELD is walking in the clouds, for he has Lewis Milestone all signed, sealed and delivered to direct "Arch of Triumph", which is the first step in getting the picture made. When he telephoned to Erich Remarque, the author, Remarque was delighted because Milestone's best picture, and an Academy winner, was his "All Quiet on the Western Front." Now, about the Ingrid Bergman angle which we mentioned; it looks very, very much as she'll do it with Milestone as the director. But I suppose it will be a question of whether she will do this or "Joan of Arc" first.

ALL DAY FRIDAY and Saturday after Robert Montgomery stepped out of "A Woman of My Own", the Greer Garson picture, tests were made of Richard Hart. Now we know why Richard flew out here in a hurry from New York, where he was appearing in "Dark of the Moon." George Cukor, with whom Montgomery had been arguing, tested Hart, who is a personable young man, and according to New York, a very good actor. So it will probably be "Hart's here—and Garson's got him."

WHEN JACK WARNER arrives in town next Wednesday he's going to learn that the Hollywood foreign correspondents have awarded him a special peace prize for the short, "Hitler Lives." This organization has 500,000,000 readers, and the award is not an annual thing, just when the association feels someone in the motion picture business particularly deserves it. With the award will go the announcement that Warner is receiving the gold statuette for "Hitler Lives" because of the importance of its warning against the perpetuation of the Nazi ideology.

WHEN Eunice McFarland was Betty Hutton's hair dresser, the two girls were friends, and Betty advanced Eunice $1500 to apply on a house. Came the break, and twice within the last few weeks, the Hutton lawyer has contacted Eunice asking for the money. Eunice replied she could pay it off $50 a month but not in a lump sum, because she didn't have that kind of money. The girl signed a note, but she understood from what Betty told her later that it was meant as a gift. Still, she did sign a promissory note, and notes are never gifts. Betty says: "Eunice doesn't have to pay me one penny. I did turn the note over to my lawyer, but now I've sent for that note." So Eunice can now relax, for everything appears to be settled.

THE DICK HAYMESES once parted over whether Mrs. H. (Joanne Dru) should have a career or stay home and be a good little wife. So after they kissed and made up, they "compromised." She signed a personal contract with Howard Hawks, discoverer of Lauren Bacall. But, Joanne, who is young, pretty, with black hair and lovely green eyes, didn't do a thing professionally until over this last week-end she signed for the title role in "Abie's Irish Rose." It's a very good part for her debut and she'll be directed by Eddie Sutherland, who has also done some star "discovering" in his time.

MARY PICKFORD telephoned Buddy Rogers from London to tell him she's leaving immediately for Paris, Italy, Spain and, yes, she'll even take a fling into Germany on business for United Artists. "What business are you going to do for us in Germany?" Buddy kidded her. "I'm going to say 'Little Jodine' all over the country," she laughed. She was referring, of course, to Buddy's movie about the most pesky kid in the cartoon strips. In fact, she is such a good press agent, Mary told him, that she mentioned the picture several times during her two-hour audience with the King and Queen of England.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD COLLECTED AT RANDOM: Van Johnson goes into the Good Samaritan Hospital on Wednesday for an operation. He kept it so quiet, no one knew a thing about it; Lady Cavendish has a romance with a very important man, and when he is legally free, there will be an announcement; Lana Turner expects to leave tomorrow for New York with her baby and nurse. She just came back to do a radio show. The attraction is a young radio executive; Bob Howard now owns Man of Glory. He paid Raoul Walsh $40,000 for this thoroughbred, Andrea and Bob are having a house party at San Mateo and taking their guests to Bay Meadows for the races. He owns a mansion he inherited from his mother; on Wednesday Norma Shearer and Marty Arrouge are having a farewell dinner for Sylvia Fairbanks Stanley. She says au revoir to Hollywood and the U. S. A.

LADY FURNESS leaves today for England to join her son, young Lord Furness, who is in school there. She will stop and see her sister, Gloria Vanderbilt, in New York. Wonder if the storm of criticism Gloria, Jr., received had anything to do with Stokowski's statement that his wife and her mother would reconcile. Reconcile—What has Gloria, Sr., to reconcile about? The battle seems to be all on one side; saw Mimi Howard, granddaughter of C. S. Howard, who was terribly worried about her fiance, who was in Hilo when the tidal wave struck there. She couldn't get through to him for three days; Larry Crosby is in San Antonio and not sick in the hospital as was telephoned this column; Mike Romanoff is off for New York on his semi-annual trip; Bob Hutton stagging it. The girl friend, June Haver, is in the hospital; the Cagneys, Jimmy and Bill, are so discouraged over renting space in studios they are talking about moving to New York, where there are plenty of unoccupied studios.

Boston After Dark

MONDAY MORNING MUSINGS: Newest technique in the Communists' American strategy is an attempt to break down the FBI . . . In the collective heart of young America, the Marines and the FBI or G-men rate closely together . . . The Communist party line campaign (aimed at your kid and mine) is taking on J. Edgar Hoover's FBI boys first.

TO HEAR THE COMMIES and their fellow-travelers tell it, Hoover and his highly-trained young men have not been proof against the corruptive potency of American black marketeers and other thieves who have income tax rags to beat and hundreds of $1000 bills to exchange for currency in smaller denominations at the ratio of 12-7 ($12,000 in $1000 bills to exchange for $7000 in 100's or 50's).

THE COMMUNIST "line" states that the FBI boys are alerted to watch one another exactly as the Russian OGPU sleuths are instructed to spy on one another . . . From this alleged policy, the net result has been discovery of the corruption of at least 20 per cent of the FBI—according to party-line of the Reds . . . If we are willing to believe that, we should be willing to exchange a first-base box at Fenway Park for six reserved seats in the polling booth of a Siberian salt mine while the workers compete to see who will cast the first vote for Joe Stalin against the opposition.

THIS ATTACK on the FBI by the American traitors who pose as Communists is insidious, unscrupulous and—as always — clever . . . Merely a whispering campaign when it was launched in mid-March, the tactic has proved so undermining that devout Comrades now are quoting statistics . . . One in five of the FBI agents, the slanderers now say, has fallen prey to the corrupting influence of the black-marketeers and income tax evaders in the East and Florida . . . And in New York alone more than 2500 OPA violators—and only those who have made at least a million—would be tried right now except that we lack the machinery to bring them to justice . . . So there will certainly be a revolution (according to the mouthpieces of the Commies).

DO NOT BELIEVE ANY part of it . . . If the treasonable bums, now tolerated so blithely by Uncle Sam, can break down our worshipful faith in the FBI and its heroic works, then this propaganda may well be the beginning of some kind of an unpleasant end . . . Your reporter was having fun (he thought) with the fanatic who quoted stories and statistics to prove that Mr. Hoover's boys had taken the easy way in a ratio of one crook to five honest men . . . We thought he was talking in his cuba libre . . . But it turned out that he was drinking only an unspiked cola drink—no rum.

ON THE YOUNG SIDE of 30, he suddenly loomed as an ominous pupil of a well-versed coach when he cited facts and legends of the New York prohibition days that only a much older person had any first-hand chance to know . . . He told of two notorious characters who were "G-men" when the Federal enforcement agency was a corrupt and infamous branch of the government service . . . These characters had sledge-axed their profitable way through the Manhattan labyrinth of speakeasies — 7000 of them in the borough of Manhattan alone—until they were caught up with and retired to the jailhouse . . . The FBI WE know is not a distant relation even of the bureau which hired those scoundrels . . . And don't let any glib fellow traveler shake your faith.

IF YOU HEAR ANYONE jeer the FBI, get his name and report him to the FBI, Federal Building, Boston, Mass. . . . If the Red traitors in America get away with this one, they can get away with almost anything . . . Then next will be the Marines . . . And to the Marines is where—unless you want to start anything as a more effective answer—to tell them to tell it!

NEW YORK, April 8—The paper shortage is really acute in Britain. Love letters are being indited on stationary advertising "Schmaltz's Butcher Shop," "Abercrombie's Artichokes," etc. . . . The major airlines will respond to squawks against airport limousine fares by cutting them, then eliminating them . . . Errol Flynn is serious about taking a cruise around the world on his own yacht . . . Metro is learning why the Army Air Force thought so much of Clark Gable as a fighting man. He pins the biggies' collective ears back almost daily on story choices.

Baby-faced Marty Servo, who looks like an altar boy, talking over the Graziano fight with Sid Luckman at Bob Olin's choppery. "There's nothing to explain," he shrugs. "He just landed a punch and I landed on the canvas." . . . Louis Prima, swamped in horsy performance charts, doping out potential winnings for the Aqueduct season in a quiet—well, comparatively quiet—corner in Lindy's . . . Jane Deering and two of her "Three to Make Ready" girl friends dashing into Schraffts for a banana-split binge.

GOTHAM SCENERY: Charles Boyer patronizing the French pastry at the Pierre's Cotillion Room . . . Gladys Swarthout, the brunette pin-up pet of the Met, looking so soignee in a subtle sort of way at 21 . . . Harvey Stone and Rags Ragland swapping reminiscences in the sunshine that slants across the Capitol stage doorway . . . Louis Calhern looking more dignified than any of the UN diplomats as he sups in the Cub.

Washington Scene

By George Dixon

(Distributed by King Features, Synd.)

WASHINGTON, April 8—The cry: Write Your Congressman!" has become one of our most popular yells. You hear it on every side. But I wonder how many of those who go in for this entertaining pastime realize it is costing them heavy dough out of their own pockets.

It is the right, in fact the duty, of every American to communicate his views to his elected representative whenever he has anything serious to communicate. It is about the only way a member of Congress can know the desires of the voters so he can carry out his sworn oath to represent them intelligently and honestly.

Unfortunately, however, millions of the letters and telegrams that pour into Washington do not represent the considered opinions of the senders. Like a crooked roulette wheel, there's a gimmick attached.

In too many instances, the deluge of missives represents the machinations of a selfish pressure group which has hopped up the writers, by one form of needling or another, into clamoring for something which may be directly inimical to their own interests.

The thing has almost taken on the proportions of a game. Many unthinking people seem to find it amusing to dash off a wire to a member of Congress, a Cabinet member or the President. It gives them a sort of kick.

THE MACHIAVELLIS who organize and direct these pressure groups are well aware of this national foible. They exploit it to the hilt. The upshot is that thousands of citizens, particularly women with time on their hands, are suckered into sponsoring something they know nothing about, and have no interest in whatsoever.

I wonder how many who succumb to the gladsome cry: "Write your Congressman!" Realize that all letters and telegrams to governmental Washington have to be answered. And how seriously a deluge of communications can gum up the operations of government.

A sudden influx of letters disrupts a Congressman's whole office. It ties up his staff and interferes with his own work so much he hasn't the time to study bills and otherwise devote himself to the job of intelligent lawmaking.

But outside of what it does to the Congressman, the thing is expensive—to the taxpayers. For instance, a cascade of communications, obviously inspired by a pressure group, hit the Capital last week. The writers demanded, in almost identical wording:

"When are we going to get nylons?"

Congressmen naturally turned to the Civilian Production Administration for the answer.

CPA had to turn out 22,000 mimeographed letters to be distributed among Congressmen who in turn mailed them out to the query-senders!

THOSE 22,000 mimeographed letters sound like a lot, but something similar goes on almost every day in one governmental department or the other. The cost to the taxpayer, in the aggregate, is staggering.

JUST SO you won't be tempted to join the "when do we get nylons?" chorus, the situation, as outlined by Herbert Rose, head of CPA's textile division is this:

Production of nylon and rayon stockings is proceeding now at the rate of 54,000,000 pairs a month—meaning the first 54,000,000 pairs will be available May 1. If these were evenly distributed it would mean a pair for all because by a remarkable coincidence there are 54,000,000 pairs of female legs over the age of 14 in the country.

Home Garden Forum

By FOSTER H. WEISS

Questions Answered by Foster H. Weiss, Head o. Vegetable Garden Dept., Norfolk County Agricultural School.

Q—Every year we lose our radishes because a worm eats the roots. How can this pest be controlled?

A—The insect you refer to is the root maggot which is serious in this area during the month of May. Plant radishes as early in April as possible so that the crop will be ready to harvest by May 10. Late summer and fall plantings are not damaged.

Q—I have about a bushel of wood ashes from the fireplace. Can they be used in the garden?

A—Yes. Scatter on land where you plan to grow beets and spinach. Helps to make better quality roots and tops.

Q—How can I keep my potatoes from sprouting?

A—Potatoes can be held back by keeping the temperature as low as possible. If you want to prevent loss by shrinking and you have only a few potatoes, I would suggest rubbing the sprouts off.

Q—When should the earth be removed from roses that were mounded up last fall to prevent killing?

A—Do not remove the earth until the buds begin to swell.

Compensation Fund Opposed

A group of insurance companies today opposed a proposal for creation of a state fund for workmen's compensation during a hearing before the legislative committee on state administration. Labor unions endorsed the measure at an earlier hearing.

Joseph F. Francis, counsel for the American Mutual Alliance, said the bill would be "an infringement on the right of the insurance companies to do business.

Other objectors were eGorge L. Barnes, speaking for the Mutual Fire Insurance Association of New England, and John W. Downes, general counsel of the Insurance Federation of Massachusetts.

Intramural Winners Wait Start of Hub Oratory Finals

By BERT FORD

With the largest enrollment and the most enthusiastic response in the history of the 1946 Hearst Newspapers National Oratorical Contest: "Andrew Jackson, Seventh President of the United States," plans are complete for the local Boston finals next Wednesday afternoon and evening at Faneuil Hall.

There are 35 contestants prepared for the battle of oratory in these Boston finals, and they represent 18 Boston public high schools, 8 parochial high schools and 9 colleges.

These winners also represent thousands of school and college students who took part in their intramurals in these institutions.

Tomorrow the judges of the contest will meet with Chairman Leo P. Doherty, famed jurist and lawyer and special counsel for the Bureau of International Revenue in New England. at a luncheon at the Parker House, to discuss last-minute plans.

Due to the large number of entries in the contest, the time schedule for the afternoon high school group has been advanced from 2 p. m. to 1:45 p. m. Student contestants must register at 1:15 p. m., and drawings for their speaking places on the program will then take place.

During intermissions between orations there will be a musical program furnished by an all-Boston high school orchestra, under direction of Joseph E. Trongone, assistant director of music in the Boston public schools.

The distinguished judges in this contest are: Dean Mary Murray of the Mass. School of Art; Dr. Dennis C. Haley, assistant superintendent, Boston public schools; Asst. U. S. Atty. Jackson Holtz, recently discharged from the Navy; Laurence Curtis, prominent Boston attorney, World War I and former state senator, and John Lally of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, former member of the American Legion Oratorical Commission.

Alternate judge will be Mrs. John J. Mahoney, wife of Prof. Mahoney of Boston University, and executive secretary of Gov. Tobin's special committee for better racial and religious understanding.

APRIL COSMOPOLITAN

Out Today!

HAVE YOU EVER WAITED in the visitors' room of a hospital for news of someone you loved—waited while the minutes seemed hours and hours, eternity? If you have, you'll recognize yourself in Alec Rackowe's short story, "When Time Stands Still." Another hit by the author of "Susan and the Wolf."

HERE ARE A FEW of the highlights of the April issue of Cosmopolitan—on your newsstand today.

Like every issue of Cosmopolitan, it's filled with the finest fiction. You'll find story after story that will grip your interest and exercise your emotions. You'll find stories by some of the most talented pens and the brightest names a magazine editor can buy or bid for.

And like every issue of Cosmopolitan, this issue brings you important articles of the day. Articles that answer questions you've been forming in your mind—articles about subjects you'd like to understand better—articles about interesting people you'd like to know.

Get your copy of the April issue of Cosmopolitan today. Great writing makes great reading.

DAN PARKER—one of America's funniest and sanest sports columnists—makes a few pleasant prophecies about America's first postwar baseball season which opens this month. The title gives you an idea—"New Gold for Old Diamonds."

"SOME PLAIN TALK ABOUT MacARTHUR" by Clark Lee. The ace war correspondent puts the white light of truth on the lies spread about MacArthur, and offers some startling opinions on how these calumnies started.

AN EXCITING, NEW COSMOPOLITAN FEATURE

Just what is a Blue Ribbon Story? A story that is good and also different. A story that stands out in your memory for months after you've read it. A story like "The Whisper," by Gerald Kersh—one which shows why reviewers are already comparing Kersh to Kipling.

MEET MODEST JOHNNY MERCER from Georgia, who parlayed a freight car label into the "Atchison, Topeka and the Santa Fe," one of a steady parade of smash song hits. He's "The Man Who Writes The Lyrics" in Lloyd Shearer's short biography by that title.

Plus these famous writers . . .

PEARL S. BUCK
mother of five adopted children, offers some knowing and helpful suggestions to those with sons and daughters who are theirs but not by birth.

EDNA FERBER
in "It Just Keeps Rollin' Along," reminisces about one of her favorite brainchildren; the popular perennial known as "Show Boat."

MARGARET CULKIN BANNING
gives you a timely short story, "A Place to Meet Men," the fourth in her widely read and much-discussed "Women Who Work" series.

Gerald Smith Given Jail Term

CHICAGO, April 8 (AP)—Gerald L. K. Smith, head of the America First Party, today was sentenced by Municipal Judge John V. McCormick to serve 60 days in the county jail on charges of contempt of court.

Don Lombeck, Detroit, an editor of a Smith-sponsored publication, convicted of contempt of court jointly with Smith, was given until Friday to appear as his attorney said Mrs. Lohbeck was expecting a baby.

Smith was given a stay of 30 days and bond was fixed at $2500. His attorney said he would appeal.

"I wuz thinkin'...."

by Izzy Ort

Ho hum! I'm finally back home! I knew I wuz in Boston the moment a wind blew dust in my kisser as I was walkin' in a my Grille! Down South where I wuz, they use dirt to plant things in; up here, it's blown around in the air for the benefit of eye doctors, I guess! I got rid of my Southern accent quick before I was in my place five minutes. Nobody reckernized me wid my "you alls" an' I wuz shoved around like a dead beat until I started puttin' the blast on a couple people. Then everybody said: "Welcome, Izzy!" You should see my tan! If I hadda surf board, I could pass as a native of Waikiki! That ain't bad! I'm buckin' down ta work again but keepin' up my rootine wid daily dashes over to L Street — If the weather gits warm! I discovered that my Grille an' El Tropico Room has been puttin' on some good shows while I wuz away an' they still is! Chick Harris' band is gettin' the hep cats in wid their music. They's always action in my Grille an' from now on, it's goin' ta move even faster. Even faster than my shufflin' hand witch is achin' fer some gin rummy wid certain persons! For some fun tanight or any night, change yer socks an' come down town to Ort's 25 Essex Strut, Boston. Advt.

Fugitive Linked In New Murder

HAGERSTOWN, Md., April 8 (INS)—Police today disclosed a new clue linking Earl McFarland, condemned sex-slayer who escaped from the District of Columbia jail last week, to the murder of an 18-year-old Hagerstown girl.

Officers said a Hagertown grocer positively identified a picture of McFarland as the likeness of a "mysterious customer" who appeared in his store at 1 p. m. yesterday.

The fugitive ex-Marine, under sentence to die for the Washington slaying of Dorothy Berrum, 18, has been sought in connection with the murder of Betty Jane Kennedy, whose body was found last Saturday on a mountain trail near Waynesboro, Pa.

A length of sash cord, with which Betty Jane was believed to have been garroted, was found late yesterday on the trail.

Picture of a young man Boston insists must remain at the LATIN QUARTER for a third hilarious week — BILLY VINE! He's held by popular demand!

'Pardon My Past' Coming To Loew's Twin Screens

Loved by a girl he'd never married! Pursued by a wife he'd never married! Stalked by a killer he'd never even been introduced to!

These assorted predicaments confront Fred MacMurray in Columbia's "Pardon My Past," which is due Thursday on Loew's twin screens.

It all comes about when Fred is mistaken for his twin brother, a wastrel whom Fred has never heard about, and is threatened with death by a gangster (Akim Tamiroff) to whom said brother owes $12,000. After the gangster takes all the money Fred has, $3000 saved for the buying of a mink farm in partnership with an Army pal (William Demarest), the pair unwittingly go to the brother's house to try and retrieve their lost money.

There, Fred's identity is again mistaken by the twin's divorced wife (Rita Johnson), his eccentric g.andfather (Harry Davenport), his lovely little daughter (Karolyn Grimes), his crooked and domineering uncle (Douglass Dumbrille), and his impecunious but curvacious relative (Marguerite Chapman).

The screen play was written by Earl Felton and Karl Kamb from the story by Patterson McNutt and Harlan Ware. Leslie Fenton directed as well as produced the picture.

Wolf Will Be Guest At Maj. Dugan Fete

Maurice N. Wolf, N. E. district manager for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, will be one of the speakers at the reception and dinner honoring Maj. Chaplain John J. Dugan, S. J., U. S. A., hero of the Bataan Death March, at the Copley Plaza Hotel, Thursday evening, April 25.

Other speakers will be Gov. Tobin, Archbishop Richard J. Cushing, Mayor Curley and Congressman John W. McCormack. Michael J. Ward, member of Boston's school committee will serve as toastmaster.

'The Magic Flute' At Opera Tonight

Opera House events of the week will be the first portrayals in Boston of Hans Sachs by Herbert Janssen in tomorrow night's performance of "The Meistersingers of Nuremberg" and of "Carmen" by Rise Stevens at the Wednesday matinee.

The Metropolitan Opera Ass'n of New York resumes its 12th local engagement with tonight's presentation of "The Magic Flute," in the English translation by Ruth and Thomas Phillip Martin.

Nadine Conner and James Melton will be the young lovers, Pamina and Tamino; John Brownlee will be the Papageno, and the role of the High Priest, Sarastro, will be taken by Ezio Pinza. Others of the cast will be Mimi Benzell as the Queen of the Night, Regina Resnik, Lillian Raymondi, Mona Paulee, Marita Farell, John Barrs and Thelma Altman. Bruno Walter will conduct.

Eleanor Steber, Kerstin Thorborg, Torsten Ralf, Emanuel List, Gerhard Pechner and John Garris will be heard with Janssen in tomorrow night's performance of "The Meistersingers." George Szell will conduct. A 7:30 p. m. curtain.

Bizet's "Carmen," with Wilfred Pelletier conducting, will be presented with Licia Albanese, Raoul Jobin and Martial Singher in support of Miss Stevens, Wednesday at 2 o'clock.

Remaining performances, with leading singers and conductors, follows:

"La Boheme," by Puccini, Wednesday evening, at 8:15, with Bidu Sayao, Frences Greer, Jussi Bjoerling, John Brownlee, Hugh Thompson, Norman Cordon and Salvatore Baccaloni. Cesare Sodero will conduct.

"The Masked Ball," by Verdi, Thursday at 8 p. m., with Zinka Milanov, Kerstin Thorborg, Pierrette Alarie, Jan Peerce, Leonard Warren, Norman Cordon and Lorenzo Alvary. Bruno Walter will conduct.

"Die Walkuere," by Wagner, Friday, at 8 p. m., with Helen Traubel, Astrid Varnay, Kerstin Thorborg, Torsten Ralf, Herbert Janssen and Emanuel List. Paul Breisach will conduct.

"Madame Butterfly," by Puccini, Saturday at 2 p. m., with Licia Albanese, Lucielle Browning, Maxine Stellman, James Melton, Francesco Valentino and Alessio De Paolis. Cesare Sodero will conduct.

"The Barber of Seville," by Rossini, Saturday at 8 p. m., with Bidu Sayao, Thelma Altman, Bruno Land, John Brownlee, Ezio Pinza and Salvatore Baccaloni, will terminate the Met's opera season. Pietro Cimara will conduct.

Shakespeare Tops on Rialto

By PEGGY DOYLE

Shakespeare continues to dominate the rialto. The Charles Coburn-starring "The Merry Wives of Windsor" is now in its second and final week at the Colonial. With the American premiere last Wednesday at the Esquire of J. Arthur Rank's British-made technicolor screen adaptation of the classic chronicle play, "Henry V" opened to an $8000 advance sale and is making box-office history.

Both the stage and the screen Shakespearean shows are extraordinarily fine theater.

The same Charles Coburn, who is impersonating Falstaff so captivatingly in "The Merry Wives of Windsor," brought his Coburn Players to Harvard Yard in 1913 to present the rarely-done "Henry V."

Coburn is elated over the incomparable fashion in which Shakespeare's made-for-the-screen chronicle, "Henry V," has been brought to the screen by producer-director-star Laurence Olivier. He was saying the other day that he wants to see "Merry Wives of Windsor" made into a moving picture as fine as the English production of "Henry V."

"We are taking 'The Merry Wives' to the Coast, playing in Los Angeles at least two weeks," he told us. "We hope the Hollywood producers will come to see us do it and be shown what good comedy it is and how beautifully it could be transferred to the celluloid."

But, of course, the distinguished stage and screen Falstaff has designs on the film role of the bibulous, wenching wastrel.

Olivier, however, has indicated that he may produce, direct and star the brilliant British stage and screen star, Ralph Richardson, as Falstaff in a second British-made technicolor "photographed play."

He would choose his cast, it is reported, from the players who made London's Old Vic Theater celebrated, many of whom are to be seen in "Henry V."

The Colonial's faultlessly played Falstaff is soon to have screen competition from Coburn's unregenerate Grandpa Gow, the Rabelaisian old curmudgeon of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's New York hit, "The Green Years." It is to be given a special screening for Mr. Coburn and the press this week.

Attendants Pay For Own Costumes

1—When my fiance returns from overseas, we are to have a church wedding. Do I pay for my attendants' dresses?

2—Is it proper for my niece to be ringbearer, or may only a little boy be ringbearer?

H. H.

1—No. Although you choose the costume of your attendants, each attendant pays for her own. But you or your family provide the flowers to be carried by the attendants.

2—Yes; a ringbearer may be a little girl, dressed much the same as a flower girl.

Signature Problems

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN: 1—To settle a discussion, will you please answer this question: When one sends a greeting card or a letter to a relative or intimate friend, is it necessary to sign one's last name?

2—And if only first names are signed should "Mary and John" be the sequence, or "John and Mary"? I may be wrong, but somehow or other "John and Mary" seems right to me.

M. R.

1—Adding your last name to your signature on a letter or card suggests that you haven't a close connection, either of relationship or friendship, with the person to whom you are writing. If for example, you are writing to your aunt or cousin or to your intimate friend Grace, your first name is the natural signature—that name and your handwriting are enough for identification. You add your last name when it is necessary for identification, more information as to "who the writer is."

2—Although "Mary and John" is the sequence of names customarily written, you are quite right in regarding "John and Mary" as a correct form for you to sign . . . since it really is more polite for the person signing the names to write her (or his, if the husband is writing the signature) name last.

Additional Courses Provided in USAFI

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

In reference to the United States Armed Forces Institute, is it necessary for an enrollee to pay $2 for each course following the first course taken?

SAILOR'S MOTHER

The original enrollment fee of $2.00 entitles a serviceman to complete as many additional Institute correspondence or self-teaching courses as he likes without further charge. When he has completed a course and wishes to take a new one, he simply fills out a new application and sends it to the Institute or one of its branches.

Below Chin Line Makeup Urged

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE
Beauty and Fashion Editor

NOT MANY OF US would dream of appearing in public without having our face properly made up. But how often do we consider the appearance of our neck . . . or the arms and shoulders, too, if there is that skin exposed?

Most women stop their makeup at the chin line and all too often the harrowing, unbecoming difference in color between face and throat is as obvious as a wart on the nose. Is it because women are neglectful of this area in what should be an over-all co-ordinated makeup expanse?

Or is it because the makeup . . . most of them . . . rubs off on clothes and gives a messy, untidy appearance to the collar edge. But now . . . a new cosmetic . . . that we're certain all women will welcome with open arms . . . solves that unfinished, almost at times incongruous, appearance of makeup ending at the chin line.

A makeup for the neck has been perfected that does NOT rub off on clothes. Sounds unbelievable, doesn't it? But it is true. You no longer need to draw the makeup line at your chin for this cover-up neck blender . . . that conceals small blemishes while it blends exquisitely and perfectly with your face makeup because it comes in matching shades . . . makes it possible for you to continue the unbroken tinted line from brow down to THERE.

For the name of this doesn't-rub-off-on-your-clothes neck makeup blender, phone the Beauty Dept., LIBerty 4000, every day except Sunday, or write me, care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The Girl's Mother Should Invite Boy

We live in the suburbs of the city where my 16-year-old daughter attends school. In April the girls' club here is to give a spring dance, and she wishes to invite to it (and to stay overnight in our home) a boy who lives in the city. Is her invitation to him all that is required?

MOTHER

Definitely not. You should invite the boy, assuring him of your hospitality but also suggesting the approximate time of his arrival, the plans for the dance, and inviting him to spend the night at your house.

(Mrs. Beeckman will be glad to answer questions on Good Manners submitted by readers.)

Sauces Popular

By MARTHA LEE
Household Editor

SAUCES TO BE SERVED over simple cakes, puddings, custards or ice cream are coming into their own, in our dessert plans these days. Their shortened time and sugar requirements are reason enough for their popularity. The following honey fruit sauce is intended to be served over cup cakes or your own favorite cottage pudding, and it's fine for a quick dessert of bakery pound or sponge cake, too.

HONEY FRUIT SAUCE

1½ cups pear nectar
⅓ cup honey
2 tbsp. cornstarch
Few grains salt
3 tbsp. butter or margarine
2-3 cup finely cut banana

Combine nectar, honey, cornstarch, salt, and butter in a saucepan and stir to blend. Bring to a boil and cook and stir until mixture thickens. Remove from heat; cool. Add banana and stir until thoroughly blended. Serve over plain cake. Should be served soon after adding banana. For variation, use apricot, plum or peach nectar of the whole fruit variety. Makes about 2¼ cups.

Jo Copeland's New 'Period' Woman

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

Beauty and Fashion Editor

WITH the double-distilled glamour for which she is famous . . . Jo Copeland swings around the new curve of fashion with the same sure, sweeping lines . . . the same dash and well-behaved swagger . . . which are as much a part of her signature as the little satin square sewn inside the seam.

This season there is a new "period" woman forecast by this talented designer for Pattullo Modes . . . a woman whose contour and posture will represent this postwar era as vividly as the statuesque woman of the 1870's . . . or the flapper of the 1920's.

She has . . . created by her Copeland-designed costume . . . a clearly defined diaphragm, a concave stomach, a long slim back, well-rounded hips and bosom and lovely-turned shoulders. She is long-limbed, lithe, but rather languid, with the faintest hint of a slouch.

All of which proves that the new woman will give fashion just about everything she's got . . . and get full co-operation from the brilliant Jo Copeland . . . who believes that every kind of costume is smart this season . . . as long as it DOESN'T look "utilitarian."

She likes built-out hiplines . . . not on, but just below the hipbone . . . and she endorses nature's curves with gathers, drapery and flounces. This gives the real Copeland line . . . long torso, but with roundness below waist.

The Copeland cockade . . . of bright grosgrain ribbon . . . is a signature touch this spring . . . worn with swagger as on the lapel of a gray and red men's wear wool suit . . . or sewn diagonally . . . like a royal order . . . across the bosom of the blouse of the suit. She likes taffeta suits . . . long and flared of jacket . . . with crispness but discretion for street . . . but with wicked allure when the jacket comes off to reveal a cocktail top of marquisette or lace.

Tomorrow's Designer, Jacob Horwitz

34 Designers Dress You for Spring

IMPORTANT SKIRTS make important-looking dresses . . . and this navy crepe in dressy daytime mood with built-out hipline . . . is Jo Copeland's way of endorsing nature's curves. Narrow flounces of navy braid rhythmically circularizing the skirt gives the real Copeland line . . . long torso rounded below the waist . . . and expresses her dislike for bunchy dirndl. The asymmetrical neckline is new.

PULL YOUR "tummy" in for this all-navy number with well-behaved swagger . . . and simulate the new "period" woman forecast by Jo Copeland . . . with clearly-defined diaphragm, a concave stomach, a long slim back, well-rounded hips and bosom. The flare of taffeta below the torso-moulded lines in crepe . . . has a strategically-placed big crepe bow for fantasy note.

SPRING'S big story is white . . . as a basic, as a background, and as trimming. Here Jo Copeland, brilliant designer for Pattullo Modes, takes vertical bands of navy-dotted white crepe and sets them onto the skirt of a navy crepe daytime dress to break its fullness . . . and at the neckline and halfway down the front to accent well-defined curves. The spherical armhole has width and global shape below the shoulder point . . . tapering into a trim line around the armhole. The covered-up but show-off neckline is soft and genteel . . . the kind most of us like . . . to prove that American fashion is a much truer art if it is the outgrowth of the needs of the American woman. This is one of those neat and nifty numbers that can be dressed up or down . . . worn for extra-glamour with white accessories or with navy completion in hat, gloves and full-length coat.

IS THE word "functional" synonymous with the word "useful" in fashion? I think not. In fact, to my mind "functional" is one of the most overworked words in our modern fashion vocabulary. We have been so conscious of our duties as women at war that we have overemphasized the importance of clothes designed to work in.

I believe that work clothes are the problem of the designer of work clothes . . . almost a scientific problem and not one which should be the concern of the fashion designer. On the other hand, I believe that even the most decorative, fragile clothes can and should be useful . . . are useful when they do their job of fitting into a woman's life, meeting each occasion with her appropriately and attractively, being flexible for many purposes and adaptable to the woman's own personality, her jewels, her furs and her hats.

Even with our active contemporary life, it is still more important for a woman to look attractive than to look useful. More important to her own ego, to a man and therefore to her life.

It is harder, of course. The clothes a woman works in are engineered to size and to the "mean" figure. As long as they are comfortable, fit well at the shoulders and have good color, there need be no great margin for error in their choice.

Leisure clothes are a different and far more complex matter. The most any designer can do to help a woman in the highly personal business of selecting really lovely clothes is to create a variety of costumes as beautiful as possible, then leave it to the woman herself to discriminate and find "herself" in line and fabric.

CONSTIPATED TODAY?

You Need Not Be AFTER 35... IF—

You follow this common sense advice. Nature has placed a marvelous hydrogel substance in apples, prunes and many foods to help you keep regular. As you grow older, you may need more of these foods, but you eat less. That is why thousands of folks over 35 have turned to Serutan. Serutan is a concentrate of hydrogel substances —not a pill, not salts, not an oil, but an all vegetable preparation that provides a smooth, soft jell to aid more normal, natural elimination. Why dose yourself with harsh purgative or habit forming drugs when it is so easy to enjoy the tasty, toast-like granules of Serutan right along with your meals? Sold by all drug stores on a money-back guarantee. For your own sake, start using Serutan today!

Just One Year Ago Today: 4th Armor Organizes

By AUSTEN LAKE

WHAT A DIFFERENCE A YEAR MAKES! Today brings a multigraphed letter from Birmingham, Ala., announcing genesis of a 4th Armor Alumni Association and inviting all pre-Armistice members to mail their names, plus $5, to Graham Kirkpatrick, secretary-treasurer, 1310 Comer Building.

Austen Lake

The powder monkeys of the 4th are relegated to old soldiery now, memories as pressed between the leaves of history like rosemary. But just a year ago today—it seems another lifetime, the 4th was stabbing up the backbone of the German Reich, 65 miles between daylight and dark. It was a weird timetable on which I always look back with a shudder. For that was a day when, except for the unexplainable tremor of an SS sniper's trigger-finger I would not now be writing this opus, but instead be fertilizing the soil in the scenic province of Aachen, where some of the 4th's old fellowship lie.

April's Vernal Opiates

AT SUNUP A YEAR AGO the 4th's lead elements crossed a rubber pontoon bridge above Jena and began winding over a high mountain, literally breaking its own trail with bulldozers. It passed through occasional hill villages where our tanks had punched holes in houses and the bug-eyed people were trying to quench flames. We rolled along a woodsy trail little larger than a goat track, looking down on valley towns like miniature wood carvings and where our long range tracers kept the people out of sight.

As I look back now from present tranquility it was a day of horror. But the human mind adapts itself to conditions and surroundings. It seemed normal then—in the honey colored sunshine amid April's apple and dogwood blossoms and the sweet scent of the virginal season.

I remember, as we lurched down from the mountain and hit a broad highway. Spring crept into our veins inducing a lazy lethargy which acted as an opiate to danger. So my press jeep driver, Floyd Williams, of RFD 1, Springfield, Ark., and I had leapfrogged along the column, visiting with friends and feeling a sense of false security, till we inched just behind the advance guard of Sherman tanks which clattered along like ambulant pillboxes.

War seemed remote except for a wayside clutter of cast-off clothing and an occasional war prisoner's body huddled in a ditch. For the German guards were evidently hustling prisoners at top speed somewhere ahead. But otherwise we were so many tourists enjoying a rural holiday amid some of the most fascinating scenery in Europe. So the tank gunners lolled in their turrets and the drivers sat framed in open hatches. Just one year ago today!

Even Col. Creighton Abrams was in a strangely pacific mood, peeling off his sheepskin coat and cooking his heels on the dashboard, a picture of cherubic contentment. Nor did he roar sulphurous commands to "smoke that town up" or "knock some of those houses down" as was his wont on other days. The gunners didn't shoot after early morning. They weren't in a shooting mood. A year ago today!

It was nearly noon when we approached the town of Rauschwitz—a little village that lay back from the highway and where there was a stucco-beamed tavern on the right side and a pile of lumber on the left. It looked innocent enough—at least no more lethal than a score of other towns we has passed.

But suddenly our drowsy slumber was shocked to wide wakefulness by a ripple of small arms and machine guns like the amplified sound of tearing silk. I still feel a copperish taste in my throat and the sensation of having swallowed a sheepskin hat—as I think of it again—the taste of fear! For the column was in a cross-fire of enemy snipers.

They Got Bill Hunter

THERE WAS A SOLID JOLT on the side of the jeep. We didn't have to analyze the thump; it seems like another lifetime know that it was a bullet. And the jeep lurched as our left front tire went flat (we discovered later that a rifle bullet had gone through tire and rim at an angle just below the motor). A foot higher and it would have penetrated the wooden dash in line with my paunchy middle. And the sniper who fired that shot, or what was left of him when we saw him later, was a fuzz-faced kid in his middle teens, one of the suicidal youngsters of the SS who shot Maj. Bill Hunter laterally through the shoulders as he stood in his tank turret, and who killed a staff sergeant just behind us with a bullet through the stomach.

Williams, whom the 3rd Army press reckoned as a jinx driver after having lost two previous correspondents, teased his crippled jeep along the side of the column beyond the town and into an open field. I remember standing with Col. Abrams as the medics brought in Maj. Hunter and lay him face downward on a stretcher. And I recall how Abrams, red-faced with anger at having lost one of his few remaining veterans of the Normandy breakthrough, handed down a bottle of cognac to Maj. Bill, flipping the cork dexterously out with the snap of his thumb while he barked into his radio, "Burn that - - - - town down to the cellars and don't take any prisoners. Confirm that order." And the voices of his battalion commanders had come back, "We heard you Colonel."

I stood talking with Lt. Col. Arthur Peterson, who lives at 3 Ivanhoe st., Worcester, as the Shermans rolled slowly across the face of the doomed town, letting go at zero range with their 75s, so that the town seemed to jump out of the ground. It was a macabre sight as the village became veiled in sulphurous smoke, stippled with rosy fires that licked hungrily at century-old timbers. There was little left of the picturesque hamlet when we turned away through a back road. And there was little left of our April mood. And I recall the macabre humour in that soul-twisted time when a German motorcyclist came barreling down the highway straight toward the miasma. How that cyclist could have missed the tumultuous noise of battle was a mystery. But he sailed head-on into it till our 50 calibres cut him down—the motorcycle spinning into a tree and the rider into a water ditch. Human life wasn't worth much in that time and our guys had laughed grimly, saying "His luck ran out."

Just one year ago today! It seems like another lifetime!

Bruins Keep Up Pressure

By FRED HOEY

When fighting Terry Reardon, with the aid of Kenny Smith and Bill Cowley, caged the winning goal in 15 minutes and 13 seconds of "sudden death" play to give the Bruins their first win in the Stanley Cup series over the Canadiens, he brought to a conclusion one of the most desperately fought play-off games ever waged on Boston Garden ice.

It was only the lion-hearted work of these forwards, aided by Pat Egan and Murray Henderson, that kept the puck in the Canadien end of the rink at this decisive point. Smith, who was great all night, had gone into the corner for the puck and passed toward the net, Cowley helped it along. Then in popped Reardon to grab the disc and drill home the winning counter.

As the result of this win the Bruins entrain for Montreal at 8:45 tonight where tomorrow night they play the fifth game of the series. The sixth game, if necessary, will be played in Boston, Thursday night.

The game was a hard hitting affair with both teams playing their hearts out. The Canadiens were anxious to make it four straight which, with their four straight over the Blackhawks, would have given them the unusual distinction of having taken eight straight play-off games.

If the Canadiens thought for a moment they were going to waltz through the Bruins as they did in the third period of last Thursday's battle this feeling was soon dispelled as the Boston boys carried the game right to their foes. Tempers flared, there was plenty of interference and tripping but the crowning stunt was the fist fight between Bep Guidolin and Toe Blake . . . The boys dropped their gloves and went to it with a will. Fortunately, Bep was picking on the Canadien ace and not a third stringer. Like all fights of this nature nobody was removed to the hospital but the culprits drew five minutes in the bastile.

Art Ross remarked before the game that he would show the Boston fans a fighting team last night. He did and how! Every line was superb, and they tore into Canadiens with abandon. They took a lot of the speed out of the Canadiens by some of this hard hitting.

Goalie Frankie Brimsek had another of his great nights, 33 stops against 20 for Bill Durnan. Many of Brimmie's were honeys.

An impressive patriotic gesture was added when 15 survivors of the Bataan Death March were introduced to the huge crowd prior to the game. They received a tremendous ovation

Kyne Here for Suffolk Bid

William Kyne, general manager of Bay Meadows race track in California, arrived in Boston this morning prepared to bid $2,000,000 at the public sale of Suffolk Downs stock on May 1.

Kyne said he had control of $750,000 of West Coast money for the purchase of the track, and that he would like to get the balance of $1,250,000 needed to close the deal in Boston. Kyne said he would set aside a block of $250,000 of stock for veterans, the dividends to be used to help disabled veterans.

Wildlife Preserved By Yarmouth Club

By TAP GOODENOUGH

Visiting the Bass River Rod and Gun Club, at Yarmouth, on Cape Cod, this week-end, we had the pleasure of meeting an enthusiastic group of anglers and hunters, who are making great strides in the work of conservation and the preservation of wild life. Accompanied by Reservation Supt. Tom Matthews and his assistant, Ray Darling, we hiked about the club's 160-acre tract, where once the Hockanon Indians cut trails, and viewed an amazing wild life preserves. Here, hard-working members have built a dam and sluiceway, converting 45 acres of old cranberry bogs into a beautiful pond—an ideal resting place for thousands of ducks. These outdoorsmen—and women—also planted 160 trees, created bird sanctuaries, and put in several feed patches.

Grand cover for the feathered folk abounds in this verdant spot. A few ducks hovered nearby, an owl winged from the treetops, while a rabbit scurried through the brush—and we even came upon fresh deer tracks . . . Local Boy Scouts have erected 70 birdhouses in the woods.

The reservation is a "dream come true" for genial, bronzed Tom Matthews, who said: "The land was purchased in 1941 through contributions from members, and these boys deserve much credit, for they sacrificed a large territory of excellent hunting country, in order to insure sport for future generations. The men hauled sand and hewed timber in their spare time, putting in roads, and the like. And now our goal is to build a clubhouse, overlooking for duck pont.

More than 600—nearly 100 returning veterans—comprise the Bass River Rod and Gun Club, which had its inception in 1932 . . . President is Ken Van Buren, with Ed Fruean. Jr., secretary; and Ira Thatcher and Ray Darling, vice-presidents . . . Everyone in the outfit is a "sparkplug"—not to mention Orin Steele, of the U. S. Fish and Wild life Service; and Al Schleiker, of Hyannis . . . "Red" Madden, new Conservation Officer for this area, just out of the Army, was introduced at the meeting.

OUTDOOR O. O.'s—A quick stopover in Buzzard's Bay revealed that angling activities will soon be humming. Flounder are already in the Bay, and cod are being taken from the Canal

Owen Stalls on Mexico Jump

SAN ANTONIO, April 8 (AP)—Mickey Owen, former catcher for the Dodgers, will have to find out more about his contract in Mexico before he goes south of the border, he said her today. He said he had tried "two or three times" to contact Branch Rickey, general manager of the Dodgers, by telephone yesterday.

He said he had talked to Bob French, Toledo Blade sports editor, who had been in Mexico and is acquainted with conditions there.

Owen said French did not have "much trouble unselling" him on Mexico, and that the jump of Vernon Stephens back across the border to the St. Louis Browns had impressed him.

"I have never been in Mexico," Owen said, "and I'm not going until I get more information. I have no definite plans other than to work out a few days here with Toledo."

Leave It to Jorge Theme in Owen Case

MEXICO CITY, April 8 (AP)—"Only Jorge can talk about that," said Bernado Pasquel when asked to comment on an announcement that Mickey Owen, star Brooklyn catcher, had signed a five-year contract with the Mexican League.

Fight Fans Also Get Test As Amateurs Clash

By JACK CONWAY

BOXING FANS will require as much endurance as the boxers to last out the national amateur boxing championships which were to open at 1 p. m. at the Garden today, and wind-up at midnight on Wednesday . . . There will be some fans who will not miss a single bout . . . Others will take the tournament a little more in stride, and will attend one or two nights of the show.

There are some fans who never would think of missing the long list of trial bouts . . . They will always tell you that some particular tussle in the trials was the best of the tournament . . . They are usually right . . . The so-called first nighters of amateur boxing get so enthused over various boxers that they are usually on hand when the final bouts are held.

Joey LaMotta

It is not any exaggeration to say that this year's tournament rates in class and with the number of entries with the best of pre-war days . . . Hundreds of youngsters have come back from war eager to participate in amateur boxing tournaments . . . Most of them are hungry fighters determined to scale the fistic heights . . . Each sees himself emulating the ring feats of Joe Louis, Al (Red) Priest, Sal Bartolo or some other ring great who got his early boxing schooling in the ranks of the simon pures.

New England will be represented by a fair team, but it is not expected to turn back the rush of the visitors . . . Too many of the local amateurs have been induced to turn professionals before they mastered the fundamentals of the boxing game . . . The Boxing Commission could assist in the proper development of boxers by refusing to grant licenses to youngsters before they have had sufficient ring experiences.

LaMotta vs. Blackwood

JOEY LAMOTTA will come skipping back to Boston on Friday night to take on clever Joe Blackwood in a ten-round bout at a Goodwin A. C. show at the Garden . . . LaMotta, an aggressive, two fisted fighter like brother Jake, will have one of the hardest bouts of his career on his hands . . . Blackwood knocked out Jackie Capparell and Frankie Terry in Boston rings, easily disposed of Izzy Janazzo, and was stopped by Al "Red" Priest after a hectic battle.

Another ten-round bout will feature Johnny Cesario of the North End against George LaRover of Philadelphia who recently won from Julie Kogan . . . Larry Pacino of Roxbury, who is in the midst of a wild winning streak, will collide with Johnny Johnson of New York . . . The fourth ten will be between Steve Curley of Toronto and Johnny Forte of Philadelphia.

AL (RED) PRIEST of Cambridge continues to be the most talked of boxer in New England . . . The fans are anxious in find out how Priest rates with the best of the middleweights . . . Al has personally sold $4000 to $5000 worth of tickets for shows in which he is featured which gives and idea of the pull he has on the public . . . Priest will be back in action at a Callahan A. C. show at the Arena on April 16 when he will take on "Jiggs" Donahue of Philadelphia . . . Donahue ha won from Henry Jordon, Jimmy McAllister and Sammy Daniels.

British Resent Russian Charge On Sportsmenship

LONDON, April 8 (AP)—Last November's "good will" soccer matches between the Russian Dynamos and picked British teams brought an exchange of verbal brickbats today.

Angered by publication of Russian charges that the Dynamos received a "cold" welcome and that the Britons were guilty of bad sportsmanship, George Allison, manager of the English Arsenals, threatened to protest to the foreign office.

"Every word is utterly untrue," he declared, denying any "foul play by our center forward so that he was beaten up by our own men in the dressing room. The whole thing savors of the vaporings of a disordered mind."

British newspapers prominently displayed the Soviet account, attributed to Vadim Siniavsky, radio commentator with the Dynamos who won two and tied two games here. They defeated the Arsenal, 4 to 3.

A foreign office spokesman called the controversy "great fun" but said the office probably would "take slim interest in it" because "there are too many important things to discuss officially with the Russians."

Temple Will Play 8-Game Grid Card

PHILADELPHIA, April 8 (AP)—An eight-game 1946 football schedule was announced today by Temple University. Director of Athletics Earl R. Yeomans said one more contest will be booked.

Southern Methodist will open the Temple season here Friday, Sept. 27 in a night game. Yeomans said the contest may be switched to Saturday if the Owls decide against playing arc-light contests.

Engagements also are scheduled with Georgia, Pittsburgh, West Virginia, Syracuse, Penn State, Bucknell and Holy Cross.

Easton Riflemen Set Hearst Mark

It took a gallant quartet of triggermen from Easton, to uphold the tradition of the annual William Randolph Hearst Citizen Marksmanship shoulder-to-shoulder rifle competition for New England, sponsored by the American-Record-Sunday Advertiser.

Sporting the colors of the Ames Rifle and Pistol Club, the four riflemen who represented the second team of this South Shore shooting organization scored a major upset in yesterday's final round of the sixth annual tournament at the Commonwealth Armory by not only capturing the prized title but by scoring more points than any team in the history of the shoot.

Conceded practically no chance of victory, the Ames shooters finished far ahead of their rivals with a total score of 727. Participating in Class B, the Easton gunners bested the five favored Class A teams with ease.

Taking part in the major upset were Henry Brooks, Russell Towne, Charles Barrows, Jr., and Albert Chickering. With the exception of Chickering who shot a 179, the others hit 183, 182 and 183 respectively.

What made the triumph more amazing was the fact that during the Postal matches during the past months, the new champions finished 32nd.

The final scores were:

Here Come the Red Sox

Predict York Will Have Best Year Since '43

By HERB FINNEGAN

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 8—Glenn Russell, Al Flair and Paul Campbell have played first base for the Red Sox at various times this spring, but the regular incumbent of the position will be Rudolph Preston York. You don't suppose Joe Cronin brought the scar-faced Cherokee from Detroit to sit on the bench, do you?

Rudy York

York has been one of the game's great sluggers since he joined the Tigers in '37. That was the year he hit 35 home runs to tie Hal Trosky's league record for freshmen and hit 18 homers in August for a new league record. That year Charlie Gehringer led the league in hitting (.371) and was voted the most valuable player. That year, Hank Greenberg batted in 183 runs, barely missing Lou Gehrig's all-time record. That year Mickey Cochrane was beaned. Detroit didn't win the pennant in '37 but there was so much to arouse fandom that the club outdrew the Yankees for 77 home games.

Yorks' batting has fallen off of late, though as recently as 1943 he led the league in home runs (34) and runs-batted-in (118). Last year he slipped to 18 home runs, to 87 RBI and to a .264 average.

It has been bruited about that he is "washed up" as a slugger. that Detroit let him go for that reason. This York denies vehemently.

"I practically arranged the trade myself," he said. "O'Neill needed a shortstop for two years but the Sox wouldn't let Lake go while Pesky was in the service. Cronin needed a first baseman so as soon as Pesky was discharged the trade went through.

"Washed 'up!" he challenged. "Who ever heard of a ball player, outside of a broken arm pitcher, being 'washed up' at 32? There's such a thing as remaining too long in one city, and I spent nine years in Detroit. The change to Boston will do me good. I always liked to hit there anyway."

In York's nine years of big league baseball, he has made five all-star teams, he has tied the record (4) for hitting home runs with the bases loaded, he set a record by completing seven DP's from first to second to first.

"He's a better fielder than Cavarretta," said Cronin in defense of the Lake-York trade. That may be stretching the truth a bit, but York knows how to play the position, if he isn't as fancy as McQuinn or Kuhel.

A fellow doesn't play on two pennant winners (1940 and 1945) by accident. York handles cutoffs expertly, is skilful at picking throws out of the dirt.

Above all, he's a keen student of the game, as every Detroit player seems to be. He can tell you why Tommy Bridges never could lick the Yankees, how Frank Hayes, when recovering from a broken leg, gave away his signals, how young catchers tip off the curve and fast ball with fatal results to the pitcher. His clubhouse discussions are most illuminating.

He's a farmer and the son of a farmer. He has a big farm at Cartersville, Ga., where he lives with his wife and two children, where he raises cotton and wheat. He has a "preaching brother." He is pretty well fixed with the world's goods.

He's as strong as an ox, his 6-1, 207-pound frame being extremely well knit. He's balding on the back of the head so that Jim Bagby tagged him with "Flat-Top" the moment he saw him uncovered.

He didn't hit a lick at Sarasota, and the talk was that Cronin was giving up on him. But he's Cronin's type of ball player, a slugging right-hander as Jimmy Foxx was in the '30's who might have the big year Bob Johnson had in '44 after being rescued from Washington's arclight baseball.

"I never did hit in the south," said York, and former teammates at Detroit corroborate the statement. "The pitchers are wild, the backgrounds bad. I'll hit when the bell rings."

Cronin is "shooting the works" this year. There's been so much talk about him not winning a pennant in his first 11 years at the Sox helm he's determined to silence his critics. So he got York in hopes the Indian would bat in 100 runs or more and hit 25 home runs. He's been on the prowl for a slugging third baseman who bats right handed. He has the best balanced team in the league otherwise, but he's got to get his right handed power from third and first bases as well as from Doerr.

"I won't let him down," promises York. If he does, no pennant will fly from Fenway's masthead for a while.

Prediction: York will have his best season since '43. He carried the load alone in Detroit during the war days. He always hit better when he had fellows like Greenberg and Gehringer surrounding him. He's got Williams and Doerr now. They're pretty good.

TOMORROW—Hal Wagner.

Hopp, McCosky Grab Spotlight

By JOE CASHMAN

EVANSVILLE, Ind., April 8—Advance publicity blurbs on the Braves-Tigers series invariably feature Hank Greenberg, Dick Wakefield, Tommy Holmes and Phil Masi. Southern sports scribes, when touching on the series, write about Carvel Rowell of Citronelle, Ala., Jimmy Hitchcock of Auburn, Ala., Carden Gillenwater of Knoxville, Tenn., and Paul Richards of Atlanta, Ga.

Placards, advertising the engagement, carry the pictures of Hal Newhouser, "Dizzy" Trout and Mort Cooper.

No mention of John (Hippety) Hopp and William (Barney) McCoskey, the rival center fielders.

They're simply the outstanding players on the field every day.

Ask the Tigers to name the most valuable Braves' player and, to a man, the champions will answer "Hopp."

Ask the Braves to elect the most valuable Tiger and the vote is unanimous for McCosky.

Ask the approximately 40,000 customers who've watched the two clubs in action on this tour what player furnished them the greatest thrills and four out of five will name Hopp or McCosky.

The game itself can be deadly dull but the performance of the two center fielders is certain to be worth the price of admission

Each leads his club in hitting, each leads his club in base-stealing

They have much in common, "Hippety" and "Barney."

Both are blue-eyed, broad-shouldered and ever so slightly bow-legged.

Both bat left-handed. Both are "levelers," meaning they hit more balls on a line than in the air and get doubles and triples rather than homers.

Both have speed to burn and class to spare. Both are quiet and friendly but two more aggressive players aren't to be found in the majors.

Both would rather play than do anything else in the world and they do their stuff with a reckless abandon that is electrifying

McCosky is a shade the better hitter, Hopp about a step the faster runner.

Oddly enough, each has the same minor weakness, a throwing arm that could be a little stronger.

What a pair they'd make on the same club.

Braves' Game Off

The Braves-Detroit exhibition game scheduled for Ft. Knox today was cancelled because of bad weather. The teams play their final game at the same place tomorrow afternoon.

Two School Football Games

By MIKE GILLOOLY

Schoolboy prayers for the weather will vary this week with at least four schools rooting for cool breezes (allowing for two fast spring exhibition football games) with the remainder of the field cheering for the sun to shine on the opening of the baseball campaigns.

The gridders take over Friday night and Sunday afternoon but before they move into Manning Bowl, Lynn, there'll be plenty of action on the diamond.

Waltham High, as usual, will lift the lid with a pre-season warm-up against Middlesex school listed for Wednesday afternoon—and, of course, Coach Jack Leary is his usual pessimistic self. Even with five veterans back in the fold, he's downhearted about the Watch City nine's chances in the Suburban League, scheduled to get under way Friday afternoon with the Arlington-Newton feature at the home of the Spy Ponders.

Waltham will probably rely on righthander Fran Anderson to open on the mound, sending ace Norman Roy to the outfield in a move to save him for the league play. Roy will have outfield companions in Lorne MacArthur, out previously with a bad knee, and Tim Cormier. The infield, with the exception of shortstop Al Scafidi and third basemen John Hansbury or Bob Damiseau, will be a veteran group.

Catcher Dick Bartlett will be back behind the plate; Frank Hart will be at first and Mal Weatherbee at second.

Football's contribution to the program will be the Saugus-Peabody clash at the Bowl Friday night under the floodlights and the Salem-Nashua contest on the same field Sunday afternoon . . . these games will be followed by two more grid tests to be held in the Bowl this month in spite of emphasis on the North Shore against spring practice.

Saugus will be introducing a new—but veteran—coach in Ted Galligan, recently returned from U. S. Navy duty, to take over from Dave Lucey . . .

Leukemia Girl Has Birthday With Dad

Little Margaret Zion of West 7th st., South Boston, and her daddy are setting in place the candles on the birthday cake as they celebrate d addy's birthday. Margaret, victim of dread leukemia, is not expected to be alive when her third birthday comes in July—so she joined in her father's celebration. The father, a veteran of two years' overseas, has been out of work since his little girl was stricken last January.

Roxbury Boy Wins As AAU Bouts Open

By BILL SMITH

BOSTON GARDEN, April 8—The 58th annual National A. A. U. boxing championships opened here early this afternoon with a gathering of some 3000 faithful fans in attendance. Frankie Collins, Roxbury, won his initial start when he scored a T. K. O. award over Rual Palacios of Sherry Point, N. C., in the first round.

The Roxbury bomber carried too much power for Palacios and had the latter on the canvas three times before Referee Eddie Urbec halted the one-sidd affair.

A sharp left hand, which the rangy Hamilton useo to advantage, turned the tide in his favor in a fast and exciting bout.

Ernie Martineu, of Avon, was the first local hope to fall by the wayside, in the 126-lb. class. Dennis Zuinn, Portland, Ore., scored an easy decision over Martineu. The hard hitting Zuinn dropped Ernie three times and staggered him on several occasions.

TRIAL ROUND
112-POUND CLASS

Ferriss Starts Against Reds

By HERB FINNEGAN

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 8—The eighth and final doubleheader of the spring training season between the Red Sox and Cincinnati Reds was started here today before a slim audience.

The fact that Dave Ferriss was pitching the first game didn't pack them in, nor that Louisville is the Sox No. 1 farm club.

Joe Cronin, with his eye on opening day, again started his strongest team, with York on first, Metrovich in right, and Hal Wagner behind the bat. Culbertson remained at third base, though Cronin let it be known that Andres was still very much in the running for the far turn job.

FIRST GAME
FIRST INNING

REDS—Ferriss threw out Clay. Frey singled. Doerr threw out Hatton, Frey reaching second. Miller flied to DiMaggio, NO RUNS.

RED SOX—Culberson doubled. Pesky popped to Frey. Williams walked. Doerr doubled, Culberson scoring. DiMaggio walked, filling the bases. Metkovich forced Williams at the plate, Stokes to Lakeman. York flis dto Frey. ONE RUN.

Joe Gordon Ready To Play for Yanks

NASHVILLE, Tenn., April 8 (AP)—Jumping Joe Gordon, stellar second baseman, has rejoined the Yankees and expects to break into the lineup Friday when the Bombers play the Dodgers in Brooklyn. Gordon was spiked on the left middle finger in St. Petersburg several weeks ago and has been out of action since.
